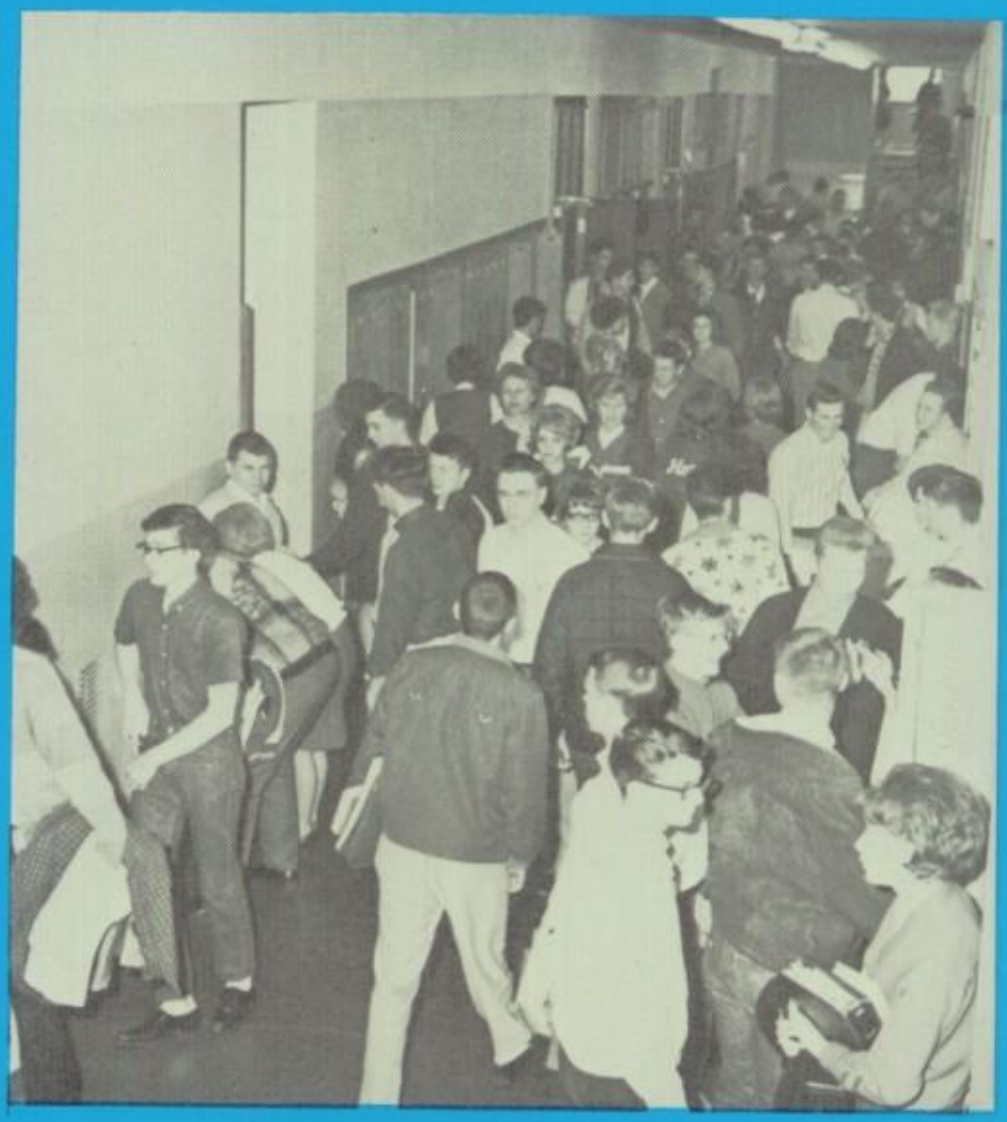
THE CROWDED YEAR...



'64 - '65

Kenneth School, the birthplace of educational excellence.

For the North Kansas City School district, excellence began in the minds of a few far-sighted men in 1913 when they planned the construction of a school for the area being settled and developed north of the Missouri River in Clay County. In September of that year the plans of these men became a reality with the opening of the first secondary school. This building was erected at Twenty-first and Howell and named the Kenneth School. From 1913 to 1925 this wooden structure served as the sole institution for secondary learning for the entire population of the Northland area. In the spring of 1921 the first class to receive high school diplomas consisted of only two students, both of whom were girls. Later, in 1922, the physical education department was added to the curriculum and all the athletic events were played in the daytime on a field just south of the present J. C. Penney Company on Swift Avenue. Each year the district continued to grow with the addition of more course offerings and more qualified teachers. Finally in 1924 the bonds for a new high school were approved. Today the old Kenneth School no longer exists except as a memory of how the North Kansas City secondary educational system began.

North Kansas City High School, site of education growth and development for 52 years.

The new high school, built at a cost of $190,000, was dedicated on January 24, 1926, by the governor of the state of Missouri. Through the year, with additional curriculum, more certified personnel and more varied activities, the high school program was enriched to encompass the needs of all high school age students within the district boundaries as well as some from outlying areas. Home economics, industrial arts, and music, along with the publication of the first school yearbook, then called the Owl, were added during these early years of growth. During the 1930's and 1940's a steady increase in enrollment, a result of the tremendous building boom in such developments as Crestview, Green Haven, Dundee Hills, Claycomo, Oakwood, Big Shoal, and Engelwood, made a school transportation system necessary. As a result, three buses were purchased.

World War II interrupted plans for many badly needed facilities since the high school enrollment alone had risen to 1,900 students by the year 1947. Later, through the 1950's, the annexation of several adjacent districts plus second noticeable increase in housing developments brought about another gain in the teen-age population. From 1957 to 1962 four new junior highs had to be constructed to accomodate this large number of high school bound students.

Meanwhile changes were being made at NKCHS. A fieldhouse and additional classrooms were added in 1949; a new cafeteria and music department followed. In 1962 an industrial arts building and a library wing were added to the south and north of the fieldhouse annex. In that same year the Dagg Elementary School became a part of the high school, providing much-needed classroom space and giving a campus-type arrangement to the high school program. As an indication of what was happening to the system's enrollment, from 1937 to 1965 the transportation system increased from three buses to 70 buses.

From 1925 to 1965 the North Kansas City High School has served as the sole secondary school facility for a district stretching from Nashua to Harlem, from Birmingham to Englewood.

Oak Park High School, a share in the responsibility for future excellence.

Starting in the fall of 1965, North Kansas City High School will become one of two secondary schools in our district, the other being the new Oak Park High School located at 825 East 79th Terrace North. With the opening of this $3,200,000 building, no longer will one secondary school unite the patrons of this sprawling school system. Two schools will share the task of unification. No longer will one high school have the sole responsibility of presenting a good image of today's teen-agers before the adult population of the area. Students of Oak Park will help mirror this image. No longer will the students of NKCHS be the only ones to bring pride and honor to our public school district by their scholastic achievements. Their peers at Oak Park will also be called upon to provide their share of prestige. No longer will the Hornets be the only team to represent good sportsmanship on the athletic field. The conduct of the teams from Oak Park will also be under scrutiny.

These two schools, one a traditional favorite, the other a promising newcomer, will have to set the example for other schools in other school districts and for all the high schools which will be added to the North Kansas City school system in the years ahead by their friendly rivalry and their gentlemanlike competition. It is the beginning of a new era for the people of our district. The students of North Kansas City High School and those of Oak Park High School will join in the common pursuit of educational excellence and share equally in the educational opportunities afforded them in this district. It is a milestone in the history of education in southeastern Clay County.

TO UPHOLD THE HIGH STANDARDS SET BY THE MORE THAN 9,500 GRADUATES OF NKCHS SINCE 1921, THIS BOOK IS A TRIBUTE.

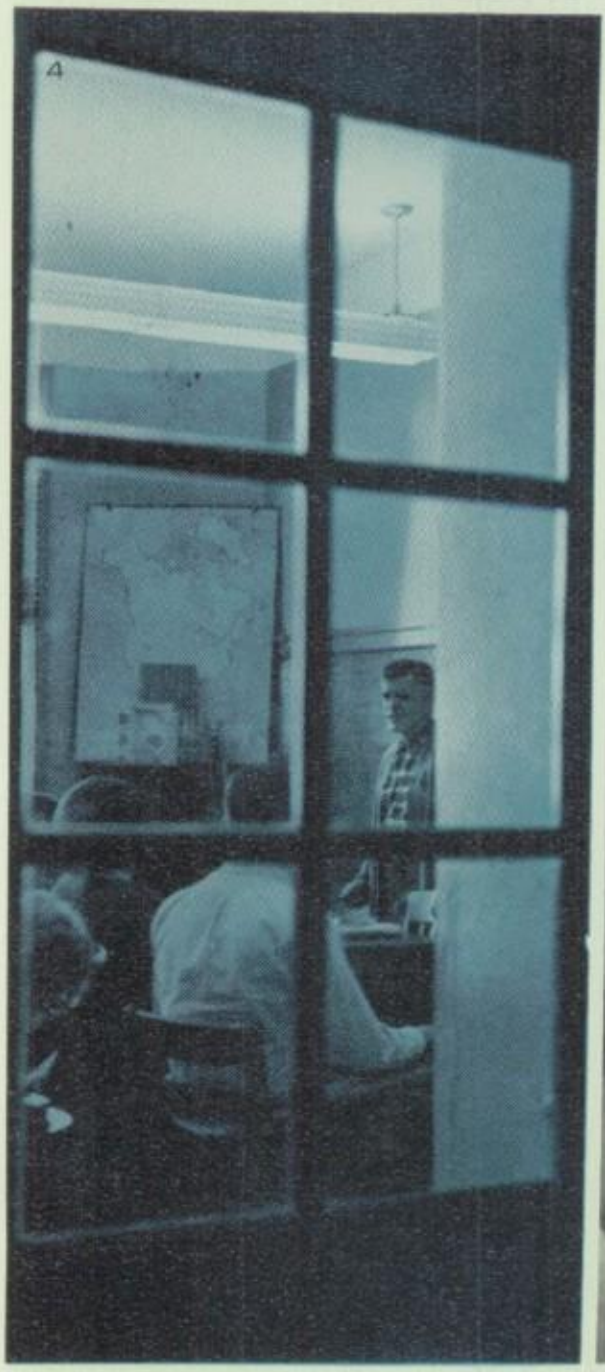
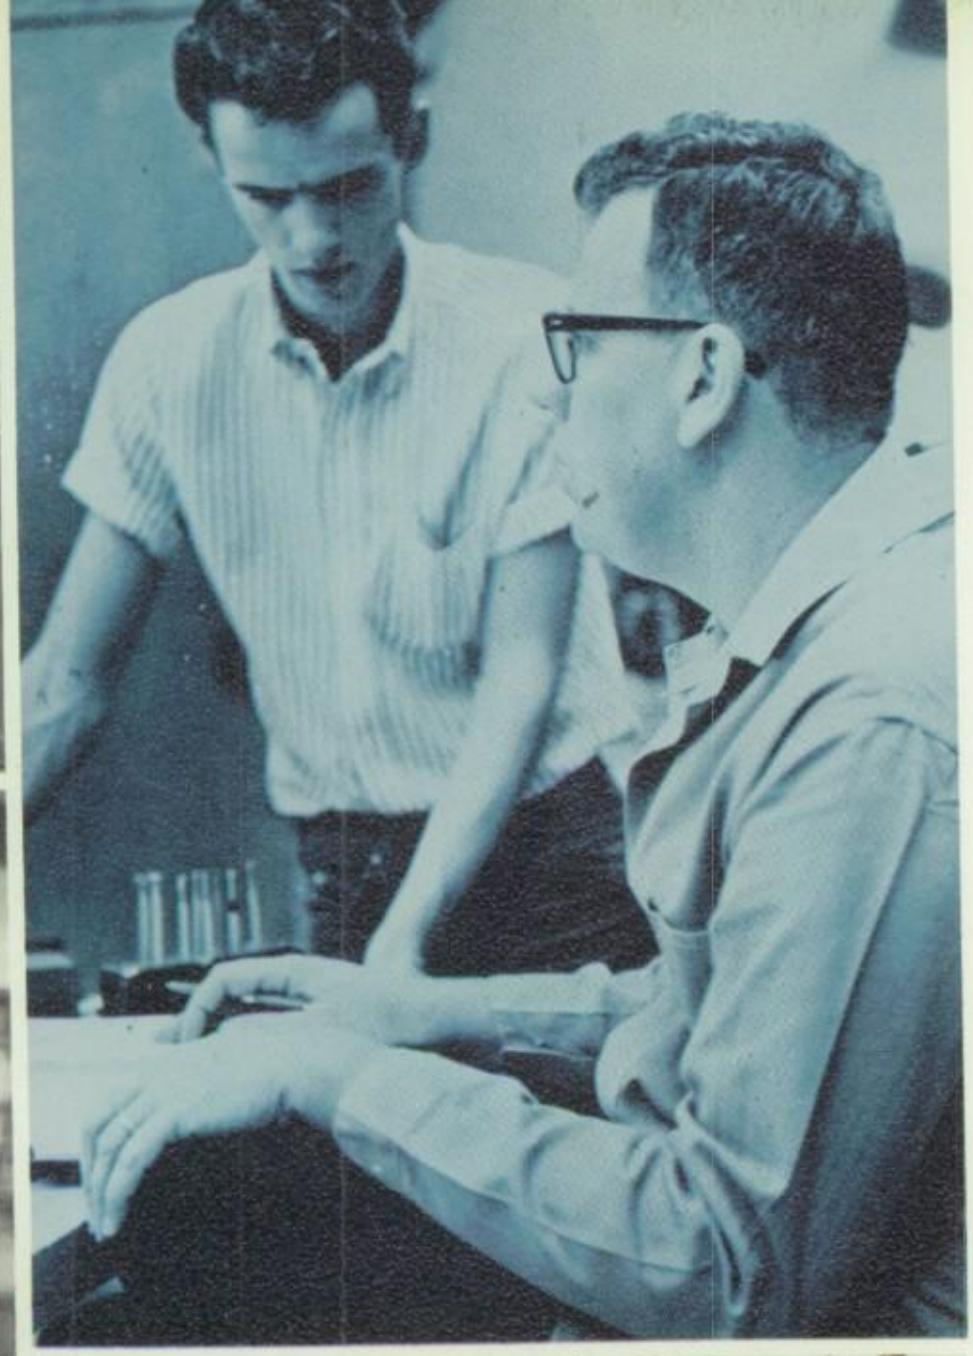
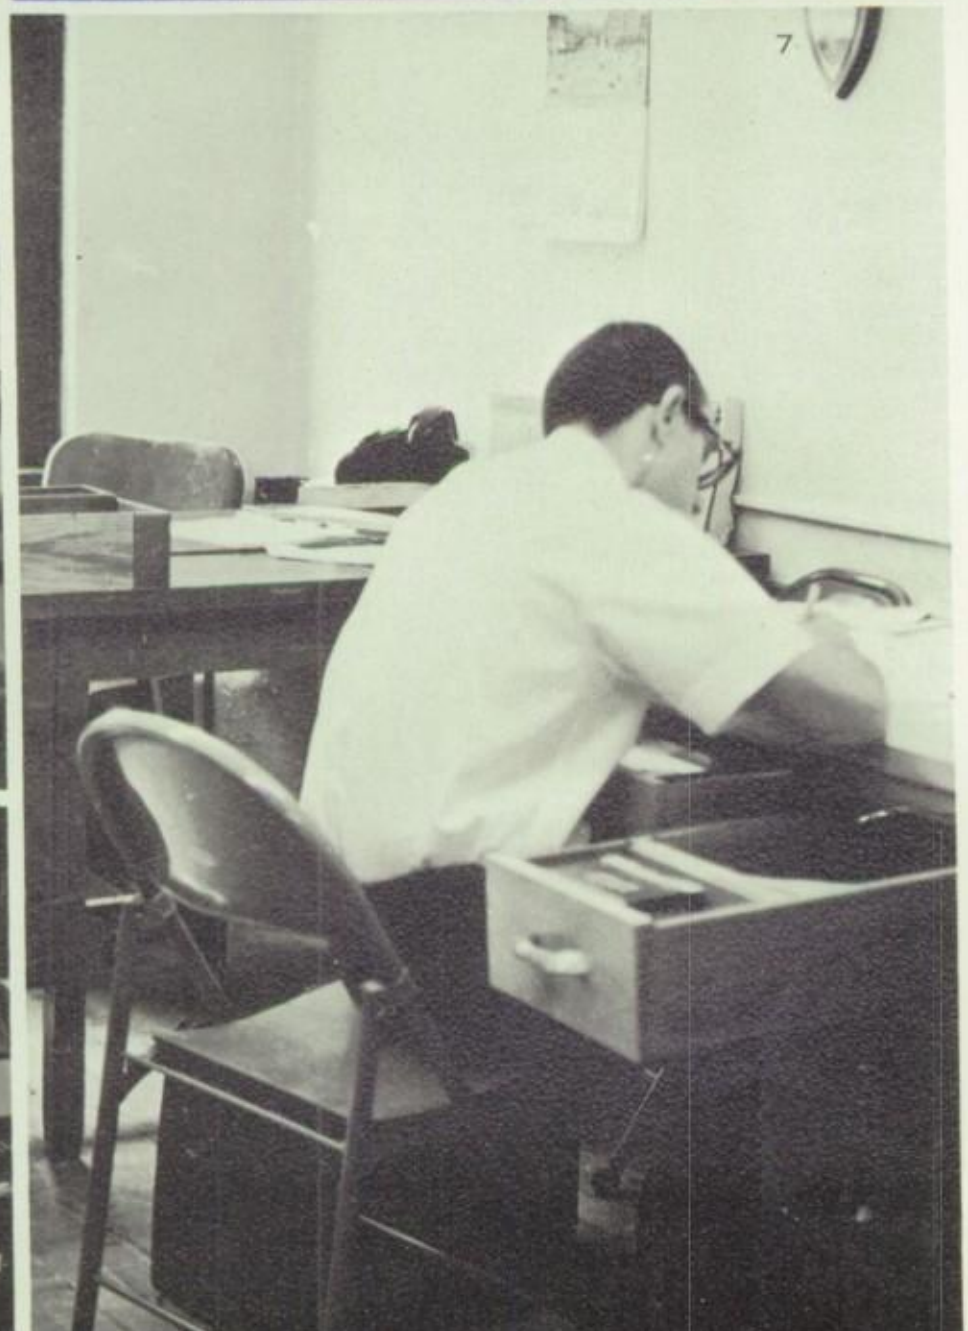
97 STAFF MEMBERS ADMINISTER ACADEMIC PROGRAM GEARED TO THE YOUTH OF TODAY







Wth a curriculum composed of Wardrobe Planning, Tumbling, Psychology, Recordkeeping, Geography, Health, Electricity, Russian, Salesmanship, Driver Education, Theory and Harmony, Photography, and Economics, along with the more common courses in Mathematics, English, History, Science, Fine Arts, Physical Education, Drama, Business Education, Industrial Arts, and Languages, it is little wonder that students have a problem in choosing just the ones they think are most suitable for their abilities and ambitions.

1. Laura Williams, a student in advanced Home Economics, is intent on practicing the finer details of sewing.

2. In his Harmony and Theory class, Mr. Bird delves into the intricacies of secondary dominants.

3. Mr. Cochran, whether it be Metals or Crafts classes, never fails to give individual attention to his students who are interested in either of these two fields.

4. Through the doorway of room 127 can usually be seen the familiar sight of Mr. Dunlap lecturing to his students on some of the finer points of American History.

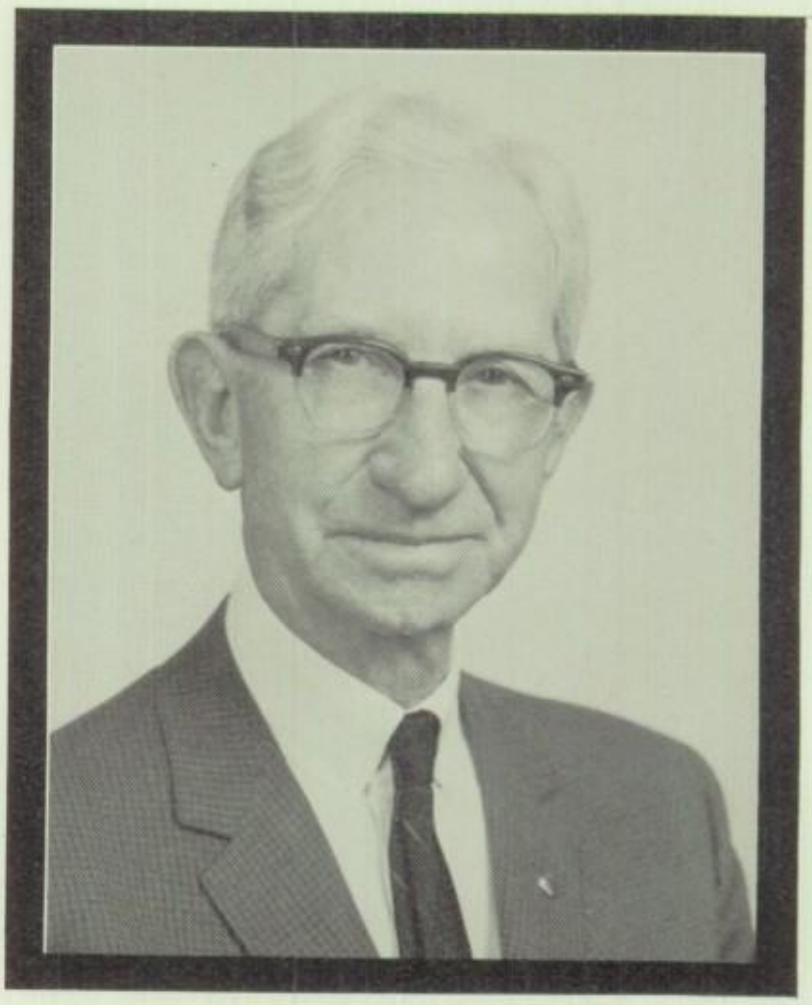
5. Bill Hazelett finds a moment or two to refresh his memory and review some notes for an upcoming test.

6. Drama must be the topic of conversation when two teachers of dramatics, Miss Fulton and Miss Gideon, get together for a few minutes.

7. Who says that a teacher has a "free" period? Here Mr. Craig disputes this idea by showing what many find it necessary to do during that time . . . grade papers, prepare tests, and tend to the many other tasks that go along with regular classroom chores.

IN MEMORIAM

The death of Mr. Edward D. Lewis, September 26, 1964, was a great loss to the community in which he had played so active a role and to the school system of North Kansas City. Mr. Lewis had been a member of the Board of Education for 27 years and had been instrumental in helping to lay the foundation for the present board, expanding educational program offered to the school age children of the district.



The death of Mr. Richard Poynter on April 20, 1965, was an additional loss to the patrons of the NKC School District. Besides his other civic duties, Mr. Poynter served on the NKC Board of Education for 30 years. First as secretary then as treasurer, a post he held at the time of his death. His broad background in the financial world gave him the necessary experience in supervising the funds of the school district in a highly exceptional manner.

Both of these men endeared themselves to their associates, were loved by their friends, and respected by all. Their sacrifice in time and energy will never be forgotten.

With this page, we, the staff of the 1965 Purgold, pay tribute to both Mr. Lewis and Mr. Poynter and the service they performed to the North Kansas City School District.

ART

His awareness of everyday surroundings and his concepts of form and color make it possible for the potential artist to see beauty and depth in a book shelf, a skull, or a trash can. As he reaches these goals set up by our Art Department, he may then develop skills in water color, papier mache, silver point, or other art forms. Gallery visits and studies of the masters' lives and works give him an appreciation of art as man attempts to express himself.

Bev Pruessner utilizes her everyday surroundings in this expressive oil, "Mother in the Kitchen."

BUSINESS

The business courses here at North Kansas City High School provide the senior who is not going on to college with the opportunity to obtain a better position in business areas. Secretarial and clerical practice deal directly with the advanced office skills. Typing, shorthand, and salesmanship are examples of courses available to the student wishing to use these skills for personal or vocational advancement. The click of typewriters, the stacks of filing material, and the language of shorthand bring the student into the orderly world of business.

As a teacher, one should project his shorthand. Right, Mr. Downey?

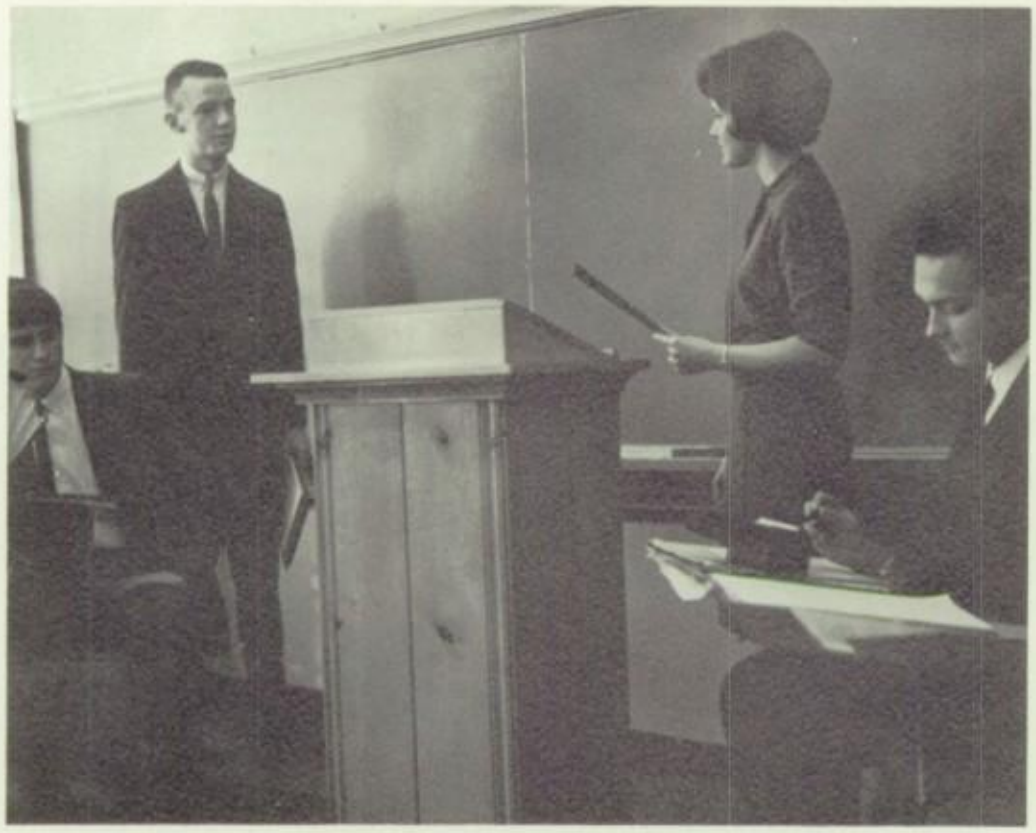
CO-OPERATIVE OCCUPATIONAL EDUCATION

The merry-go-round of business and money is hard to get a ride on. The fair grounds of opportunity are always crowded and that brass ring of fortune is simply chance. Co-operative Occupational Education students have a chance to go into this whirling world of business. The on-the-job training, including stenography, body and fender repair, and saleswork, give the student a chance to take a ride and even reach for the brass ring of full-time work.

DEBATE

Resolved: "Speech and debate are more than 'honeyed tones from pear-shaped lips.' They are vital training for our society." A pleasant voice and manner of delivery, poise, self-confidence and a well-groomed appearance are prerequisites to giving an acceptable speech. Formulation of ideas and their expression not only produce a good speech but lead the individual into the statistical, argumentative, and invigorating challenge of debate. The little green file boxes, hours of research, and the recognition of others' opinions set up the negative and affirmative cases for today's debate.



How many countries had the Bomb in 1950? How many in 1955? How many in 1960? How many in 1965? With this increase can we say that there is proliferation?

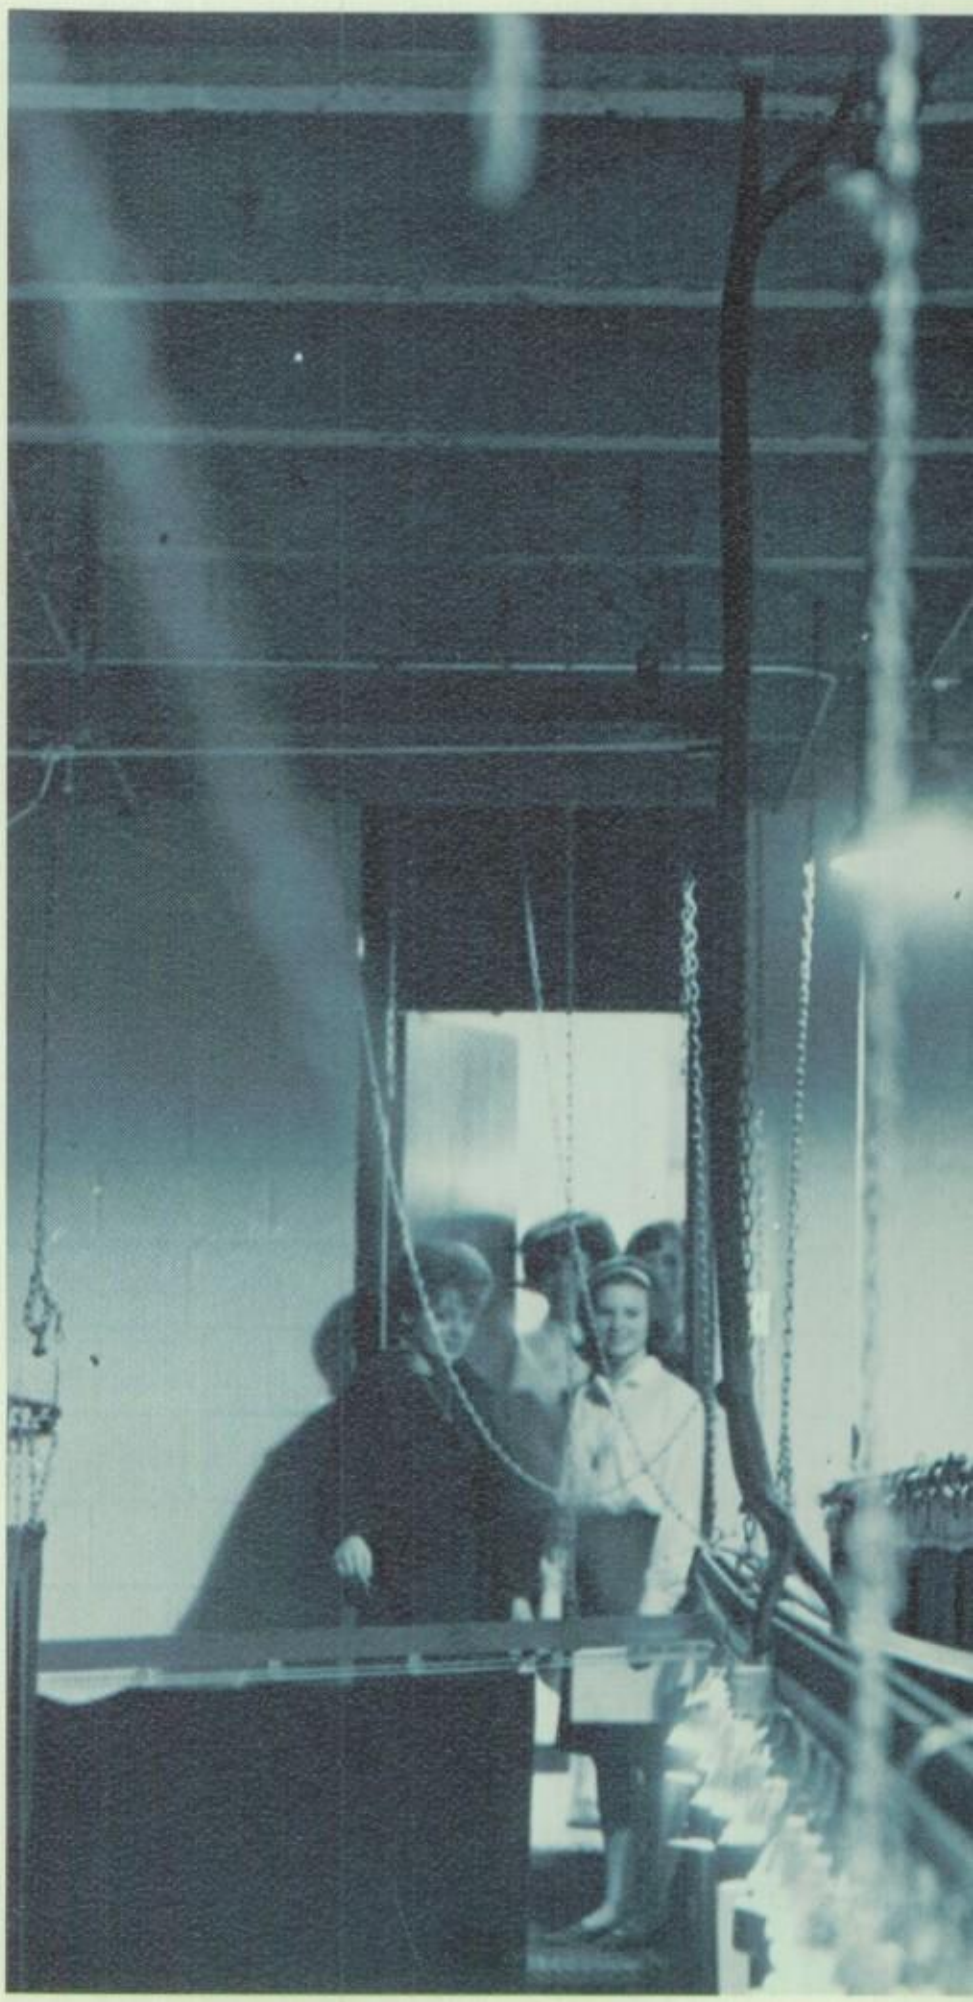
DRAMATICS

The spots, the borders, and the bridge light the stage to fit action and setting. Drama has a wealth of material. A play, a duet, or a dramatic interpretation can be found to fit every mood, place, or time. In its history, actors and playwrights have built a proscenium, or framework, for today's stage. Students of this field learn the technical phase and the acting and directing skills. They are shown drama as a humanity and are provided with its background as a tool in stage production.

Milded Fulton



The backstage area is sometimes more alive with activity than the stage area with all its actors and sets.

DRIVER EDUCATION

"The rusted iron in the ditch was once a car as sporty as the one you dream of; the boy they drag out somewhere every hour to cover and bury was as fine and smart and as loved as you." Mr. Henry Gregor Felsen describes candidly the view of American highways today. Driver Education exposes its students to the principles for the operation of an automobile, safety, smooth traffic, and enjoyable driving. This training should develop intelligent and sportsmanlike drivers. The surgeon, musician, and champion athlete reach the top by putting their skills into practice day after day. The skill and good judgment of a top-notch driver requires daily practice and good training. We could summarize the Driver Education course with this anachronism:

"Be gentle with your horses, boy, and get your wagon through."

ENGLISH

Edgar Allen Poe, Carl Sandburg, William Faulkner, and Benet's "John Brown" are the pioneers that roll across the American literary plains and inspire the wilderness of a young mind. As juniors explore our literary heritage, they come to appreciate and understand the many great American authors and poets. Grammar and effective communication become the guides that direct the student into the vast territory of American literature. Bridging the Atlantic and providing a variation is Shakespeare and his England, as juniors study "Hamlet" and seniors, "MacBeth." As the senior inspects and analyzes Anglo-Saxon traditions, he also gains a better view of a college course. Milton, T. S. Eliot, Hardy, and Johnson create a commonwealth of literary enjoyment. The homestead of American heritage and England's kingly tradition are entrenched by outside reading and vocabulary study.

FAMILY LIFE

"Although there is no one blueprint for the good American family, there are certain values we want for all." The carpenter must set down his tools and materials. Family Life teaches the student to gain a prospective into family crises and relations, plan wisely, maintain responsibility, and acquire the skills, interests, and hobbies that are needed in a contented home life. As Americans face the unfinished remodeling and constant repair of the family, the student finds a concrete source for this family construction through lectures, research papers, discussions, and role playing in Family Life.

Thomas Paine, William Jennings Bryan, Appomattox, and Korea are all part of a history of a great nation, and a large world. Facts to memorize, papers to write, battles to analyze, and wars to dissect, all combine to create an image of history. Economic, political, and social problems are the areas in which we ask the basic question, "Why." The history courses here are geared to help young people make logical decisions and become world citizens as they preserve the American Way of Life.

SCIENCE

Microscopes and amoeba, clothes pins and meter sticks, Bunson burners and analytical balances are a part of any natural sciences laboratory and the facilities at North Kansas City High School are no exception. These and many other pieces of equipment are daily reminders that the students enrolled in these various courses, biology, chemistry, and physics, are concerned with experimentation and the fundamental ideas so often taken for granted. Students are encouraged to probe into the many questions concerning life, the universe, and natural phenomena. They are urged to find for themselves the guidelines that will lead them to possible answers and perhaps a future career in science.

What is important to a Spaniard, a Frenchman, a German, or a Russian? As the language departments complete curriculum encircles the globe, so it encircles all the aspects of a foreign language course. A concept of grammar and the ability to communicate are essential to the studies. The depth and width of universal understanding are encompassed as each class explores the various cultures. The Spanish poetry of Diario, Voltaire's political feelings, Goethe and Leibnitz's philosophy, and our own "Russian Sector" bring the student into an awareness that in his world there are no differences, only variations in what is important.

HOME ECONOMICS

Jean Lewis finds that the hardest job in preparing food is the cleaning up that comes afterwards.

With a casserole of up-to-date techniques, skills vital to the art of family living, and an appreciation for what a good family represents, the homemaking department prepares young homemakers. Enlivened by the full sense of creativity, the girls may find that pinking shears, tracing paper, velvet boards, or a thimble are like artist's tools combined to express a dressmaker's dreams. Waterless cooking, mixing bowls, or a sifter make the food laboratory a place of experiment and meaningful to the taste buds. Home Economics, when combined with all these concepts, becomes a measuring tape for the aspiring homemaker today.

Diane Vaugh makes a pleasant flower arrangement.

Occupied with kitchen duties, these students gain valuable hints for their future.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The brick structure with the large glass front, located at the back of the school, contains one of the largest curriculum divisions. Within it is housed metal and wood shops. Here the crafts, electricity, and drafting classes meet. As the machines hum and roar, the hammers pound, and the erasers quietly remove errors, the industrial arts building comes alive with purpose. It welds into the boys a sense of self-expression and accurate workmanship. It molds neatness into each student. Whether it be an accurate knowledge of the electrical fields, of selecting and purchasing materials, or the transition of mental design to the physical, industrial arts in an area of exploration and practicality.

MUSIC

Many courses here at North Kansas City provide an outlet for creativity. Music, along with drama and art, brings the student into the realm of artistic interpretation. Music appreciation, the varied instrumental skills, and worthwhile recreation provide good musical opportunities. Rosin dust, brittle reeds, musical scales, and Medieval carols provide the N. K. C. version of the sounds of music.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical education is one of North Kansas City's largest elective programs. Participation in this class has increased because of a concern for athletics and its natural place in society. Physical fitness may include weight lifting and parallel bars for the boys or exercising and tumbling for the girls. Tennis, archery, and basketball gives the classes a chance for recreation and the use of both mental and physical skills. Confidence, along with skill, are created in this informal group activity.

PSYCHOLOGY AND SOCIOLOGY

Anthropormorphism is attributing human characteristics to animals. In talking about psychology and sociology we could use the reverse idea—attribute animal characteristics to humans. Man must be a social animal like the ant or bee. By understanding the social processes of human interaction, the student recognizes not only the responsibility of society, but he also recognizes other cultural values in social groups. The student is not only presented with a steadfast interpretation of sociology, but he must learn to deal with the intrapersonal relationship. Here man resembles an eagle as he learns to rely on himself. This human behavior, the principles of self-improvement and relations with people, is covered in the study of psychology. Freud versus Adler, environment versus heredity, race against race, even society versus the individual brings to light the controversial areas of society and the human personality.

Mr. Welch discusses vigorously the social problems of the American community.

PUBLICATIONS

"The supreme test of good journalism is the measure of its public service." This is a creed which, in theory, guides all newspapers. The Journalism Department of this school does a public service in that it provides an opportunity for the student to learn newspaper publication first-hand. It could well be termed "on-the-job training". As the student develops leadership and learns to interpret all newspapers, he may find the information for a future career. Deadlines, headlines, by-lines, and the millions of lines of copy are the measure of public satisfaction and the Buzz Staff's achievements.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Today, with the world's increasing masses and decreasing area, the student must be aware of the cultural and geographical differences of the earth. In an age where the sky is not the limit, geography may draw one to a down-to-earth study. Maps, globes, and almanacs are informational guides to geography, topography, and social studies so vital to a student's knowledge of our changing world.

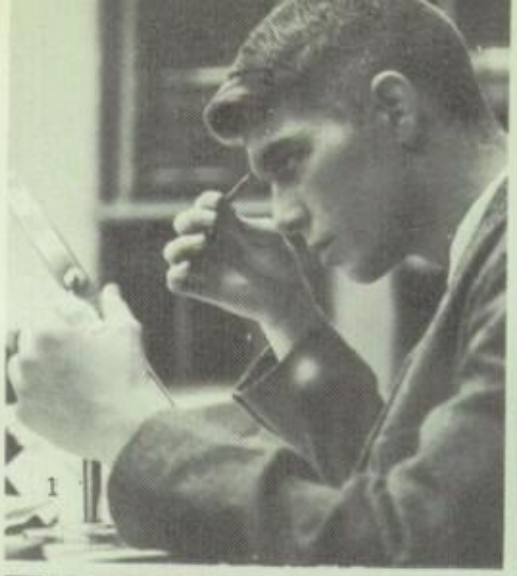
ENDLESS AND EXCITING ACTIVITIES PROVIDE AN OUTLET FOR EXCESS HORNET ENERGY



This year was jam-packed with extra-curricular activities from the very first-day of school to the very last. Hornets found themselves caught up in the chaos of a Purgold campaign, the suspense of Homecoming, the dazzle of dramatic performances, and the diversity of other such events which brought delight and fun to all.

1. For the Junior class play, "Our Town," Johnie Oak ages himself 20 years is as many minutes to play the lead role of the stage manager.

2. The Purgold campaign was an enthusiastic battle in which fifteen girls and their managers worked harder and lost more sleep than ever before. Alida Steyn and Kathy McCarty set up a booth to persuade potential customers to buy a book from Esther.

3. Doug McLaughlin, participating in another of Pep Club's clever gimmicks to heighten school spirit, shows Beth Dulligan his life-size row of "Hush" cards.

4. Purgold Staff members take a much-needed respite from the whirl of activities revolving around their noble attempts to put on another Coronation Ball, the 13th one, no less.

5. Assemblies this year ranged from a lecture by a well-known columnist, Ann Landers, to a panic performance by the Dramatics classes. In a scene from the latter, Ringmaster Bob Rodenbush, owner of the hat and hand on the left side of the photograph, directs "Life Under the Big Top."

6. Purgold Queen candidate Katy Holmes and her escort, Guy Livingston, glide 'cross the floor with the greatest of ease at the annual yearbook ball as the orchestra plays the candidates' waltz.

7. The honor of being a Homecoming Queen candidate is one of the most coveted the school bestows. Here the lucky seven, on the day their names were announced, congratulate each other with happy smiles.

Mr. Knott discusses the merits of his organization.

ASSEMBLIES

A variety of assemblies was presented at Northtown this year. With sports as a general topic of many, the assemblies included basketball, football and wrestling, with the Homecoming assembly to promote school spirit. As a guest speaker at one assembly, Ann Landers presented an inspiring talk. Other special assemblies covered such subjects as space, dramatics, and special awards. Completely in keeping with the Christmas spirit, the orchestra and A Cappella choir presented a program of seasonal music.

Entre-actes, not participating in the judging, included a folksinging duet by Mr. Hirni and his wife, a chorus line of five hip teachers, and the Three Stooges, Mr. Bird, Mr. Hirni, and Mr. Stokes. Besides providing an opportunity of promoting the participating club, the acts were judged with a trophy and an award going to the winner. OUTDOOR ASSEMBLY SPARKS HOMECOMING

An outdoor assembly touched off the 1964 Homecoming festivities with a skit depicting the parallel growth of the Pep Club and the football team. This was followed by the introduction of the 1964 Homecoming Queen Candidates and their escorts; the girls honored the football team by giving each of them a long-stemmed rose. The presentation of the roses tied in with the theme of the dance: "Everything's Coming Up Roses."

HOMECOMING

Every year the pep club, under the direction of Miss Thies, works diligently to construct a beautiful homecoming. This year, being no exception, found nearly every member (and a few boys) turning the float, fieldhouse, and football field into a rose garden to fit their theme "Everything's Coming Up Roses."

"Shoot! Tied my stupid finger to the goal post!"

The homecoming float was finished in spite of the fact that there

Ruth Guzley plays Mother Nature and makes her own roses.

PREPARATION

Sitting down on the job, huh Brenda?

No one but North Kansas City Pep Club girls could cut grass with scissors.

"Who put the giant squid in the birdbath?" ask Avalon Nickell and Sharron Stephenson.

At the halftime the junior girls of the Pep Club lined the football field, and the senior members, carrying large roses, accompanied the candidates to the float. It was a tense moment as Sandy Stevens was announced by Linda Wilson as the 1964 Homecoming Queen.

Judy Barnes and her fellow Pep Club girls anxiously await to accompany the Queen candidates to the float.

Dee Elliott gracefully helps Queen Sandy off the float onto her throne.

Billie Phillips, last year's queen, crowns Sandy Stevens the 1964 Homecoming Queen.

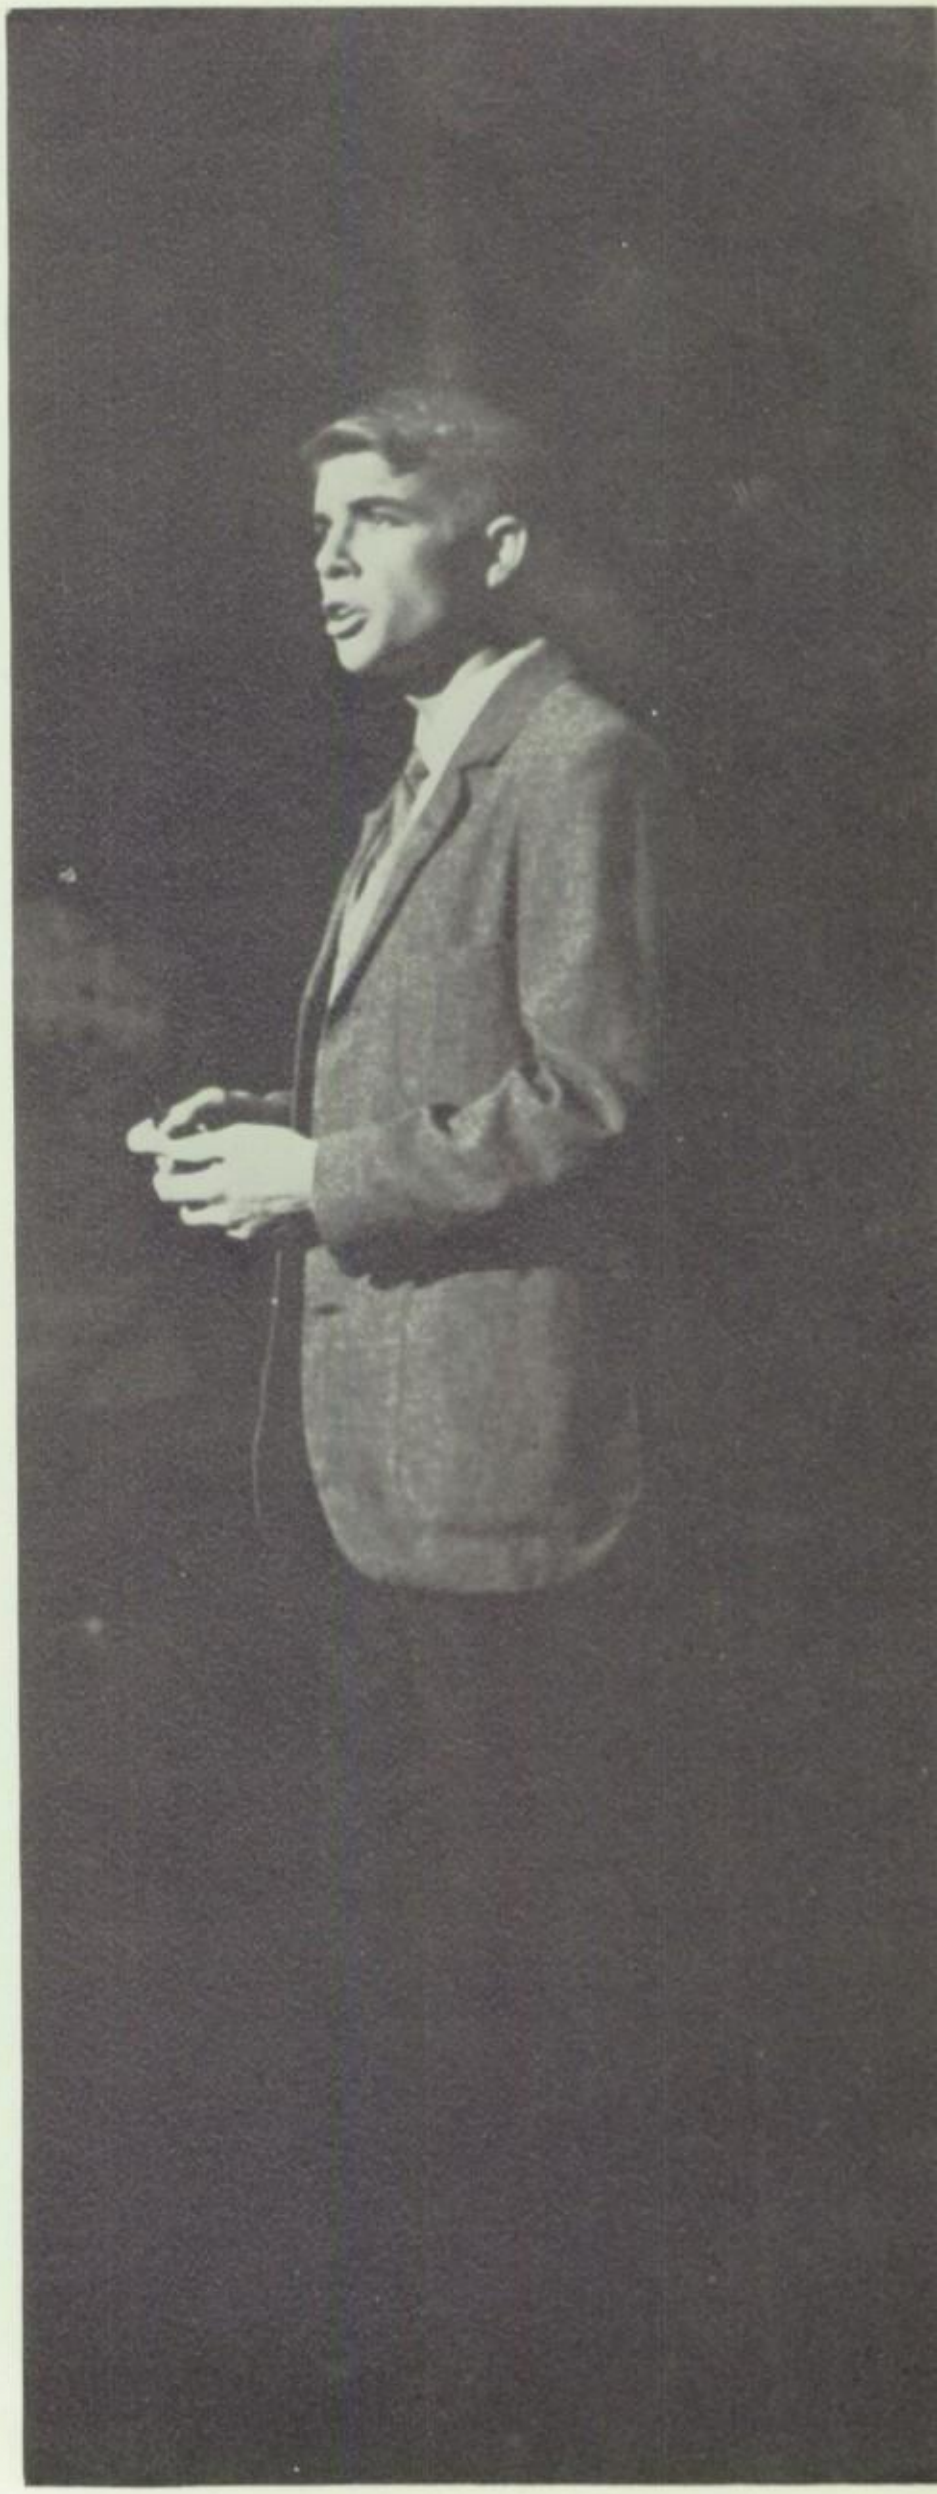
The setting might well have been any small town in America, but on October 22 and 24, 1964, "Our Town" was presented by the Junior Class. Its success depended upon the ability of the players, since the only scenery was a stepladder, table, and chairs. The narration began at the death of Emily Webb, and followed the lives of Emily and her husband George from their childhood, to marriage, and to her early death, through a series of flashbacks.



Johnny Oak plays a very effective stage manager.

Vince Vacarro gazes around the lobby of the Madison Avenue Girl's Hotel.

Sharon Guthrie doesn't believe the tales of discouragement told her by Marilyn Dingerson and Beth Morton.

Chet Robbins and Sharon Guthrie in one of the "more popular" scenes of the play.

A young lady, on her first venture away from home, was the leading character in the Senior Class play, "Ask Any Girl." Presented on February 4 and 6, 1965, it was given before students and parents in the auditorium. As Meg Wheeler wins her parents permission to move to a girls' hotel in New York, she leaves with the expectations of finding the perfect job, and a perfect husband, in that order. After landing a job with an advertising agency, she proceeds to try landing the boss's younger brother. Using advertising tactics to win him, she discovers she loves the older brother instead.

Beth Morton marvels at Marilyn Dingerson's ability to "tilt" the scales!

Sharon Guthrie is puzzled at David Burge's playboy existence.

Sharon Guthrie and Chet Robbins ponder over a cigarette questionnaire.

This year, for the first time, fifteen senior girls had the opportunity to be in the semifinals of the 1965 Purgold queen contest. During the week of December 7-11 these fifteen girls sold over 1,800 yearbooks. Each book sold by the candidate and her four salesmen counted as a vote for her.

Gretta Bollinger has a fit of nervous giggles as she walks up to the podium.

THE CAMPAIGN BEGINS

Jeanette Johnston and Dee Elliott, Business Managers, announce seven of the fifteen Purgold queen candidates in the first assembly.

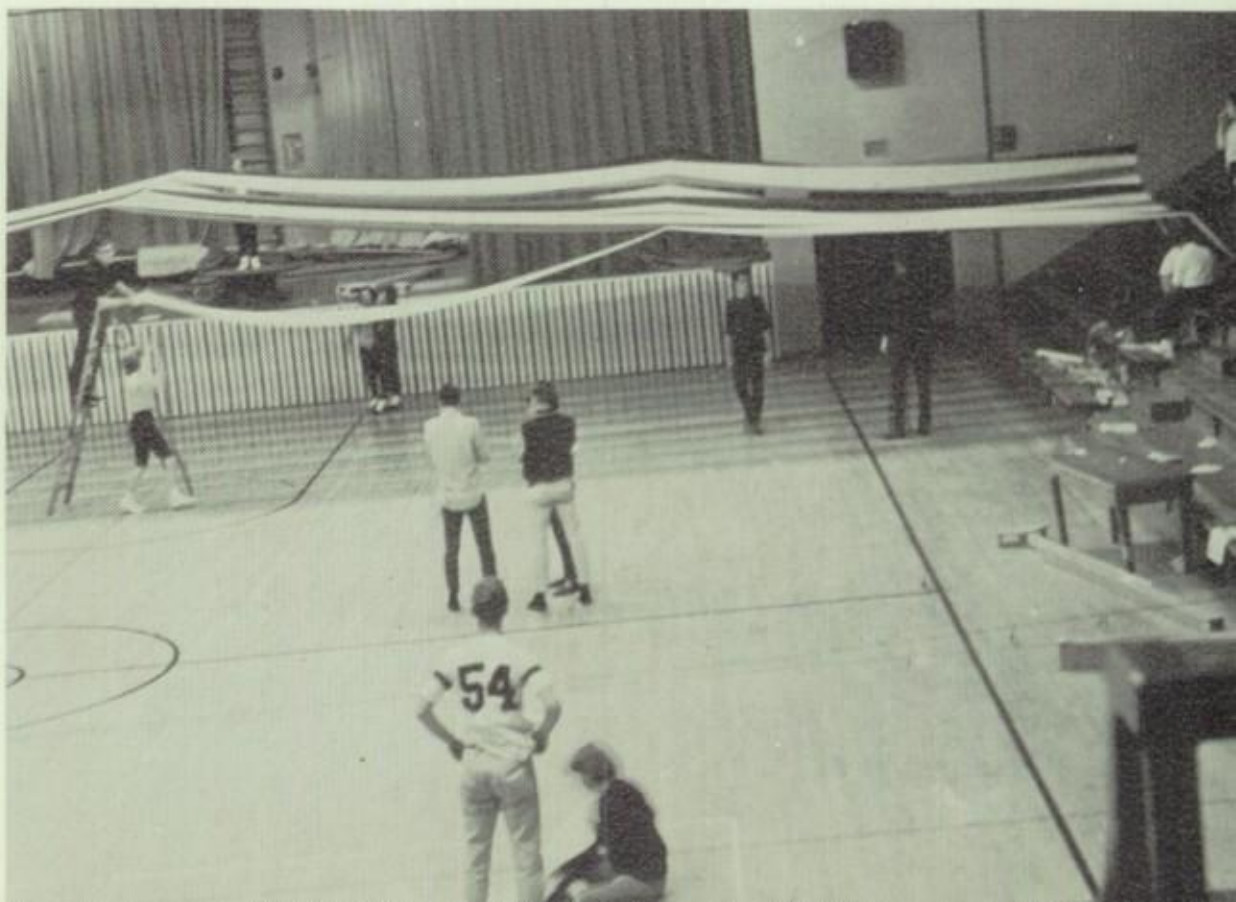
Clair-Yves helps Linda Wilson put a French touch to the merry-go-round.

Read those blueprints again; I never saw anything about electric fencing for horses.



A week of hard work, saw-horse tables, and an abundance of cutout signs and pin-sticking was climaxed December 14 with an after-school party. Popcorn and pop in abundance preceded the announcement of the top eight finalists. The lucky girls were: Lanell McCann, Esther Whiteside, Linda Snell, Mary Hixson, Kathy Crownhart, Gretta Bollinger, Katy Holmes, and Marilyn Dingerson.

Linda Snell and Linda Harris smile . . . as Lanell McCann is announced as a finalist.

Stephanie Dow, and Ann Brazier, two of the fifteen candidates, munch popcorn while awaiting the announcement.

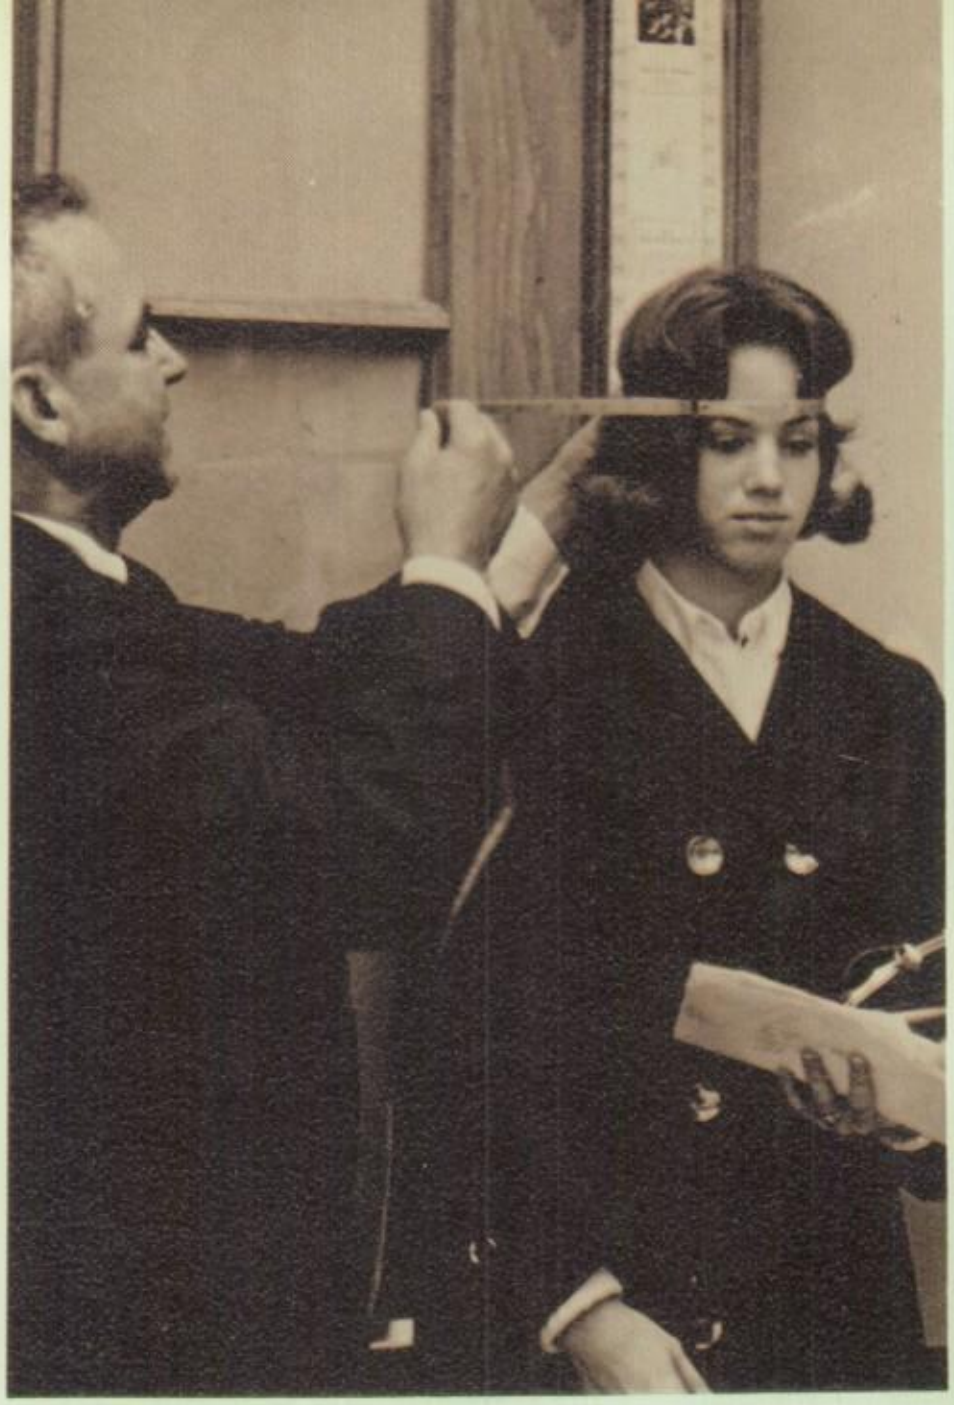
1,111 SENIORS COMPRISE LARGEST GRADUATING CLASS IN THE STATE



In spite of being the first class to spend only two years at NKCHS, this year's 1,111 seniors have adjusted rapidly to the rigors and responsibilities that go along with that final year of secondary education.

1. An important but time-consuming job is done by Mr. Postma, the Josten representative to the senior class, as he measures each graduate for cap and gown. Here Cheryl Hall stands still for the measurement.

2. Senior Gary Willis wasn't alone as he pondered over a tough question on the Ohio Psychological Test, required by the state of all seniors.

3. Clair-Yves Chauvet, our fine foreign friend from France, gives Susan Wagner a sample of his native charms.

4. Surrounded by noise, clamor, and filled food trays, Judy Barnes listens intently to some lunchroom gossip.

5. Jeanette Johnston, on bended knee, carefully reports the length of a fellow-Pep Clubber's skirt.

6. Larry Robertson eyes a tasty snack during a cold but exciting football game.

7. Measurement of light ray refraction through water seems to fascinate physics student Danny Stevens.

SENIORS '65

This year's Senior Class officers are Roger Jackson, vice-president; Greg Miller, sergeant-at-arms; Chris Christenson, president; Stan Pippin, treasurer; and Esther Whiteside, secretary.

One of the biggest jobs facing the class officers is to select the style of graduation announcement and the color of the caps and gowns. This proves to be no easy task since they must try to please all 1,000 classmates. Here, with the company representative, they attempt to make the big decision!

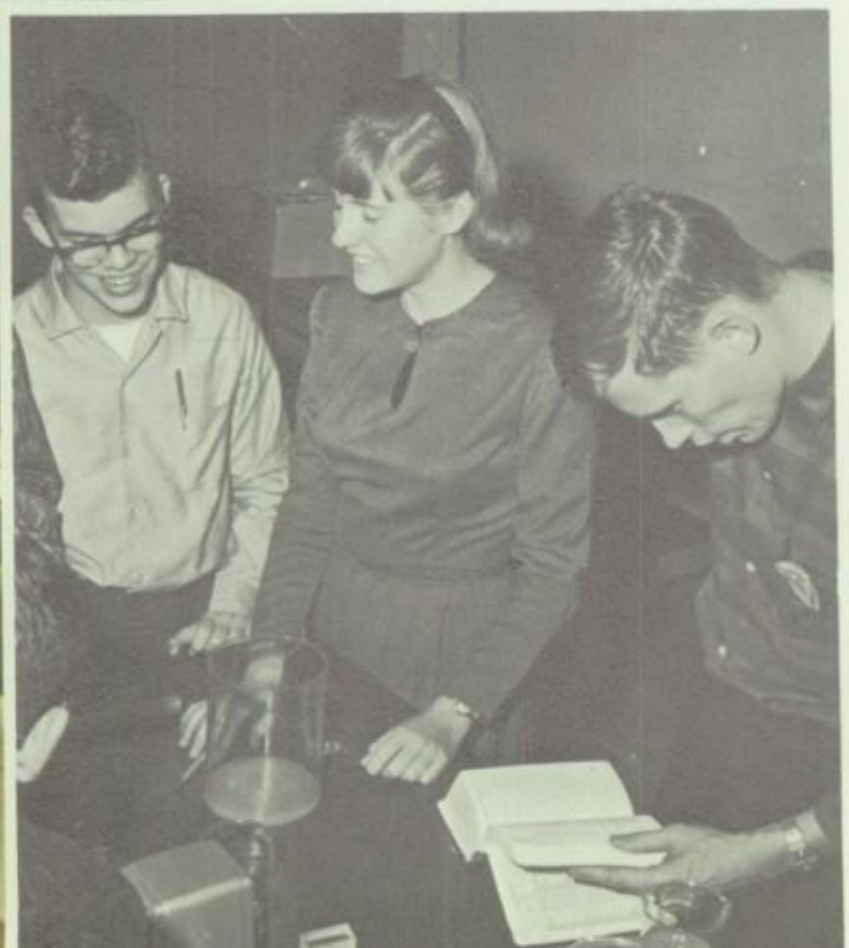
A VARIETY OF ORGANIZATIONS ATTRACT FOLLOWERS AS WELL AS LEADERS



The 25 clubs at North Kansas City High School are designed to offer every student the chance to discover and use his talents for leadership and service. Whether it is to generate school spirit, take a hand in student government, or to extend a knowledge of a favorite field or possible career, hundreds of Hornets avail themselves of this after-school program.

1. Prospective American Field Service Club members gather at an informal coke party held in the school's patio in order to meet our four new AFS exchange students and welcome them to NKCHS.

2. Pep Club, NKC's largest and most vociferous organization, conducts the best advertising campaign just by displaying the word "Hornets" on the back of over 400 purple jackets worn on game day and to athletic events.

3. Avalon Nickell models a unique creation of a Y-Teen Fashion Show which attracts girls interested in the activities of the Young Women's Christian Association.

4. Steve Moonehouse makes a popcorn sale during the half-time of a football game to a hungry spectator. Popcorn proceeds help fill Key Club's treasury.

5. The "Voice of the Student Body" is personified at a regular meeting of the Student Council, presided over by President Jerry Fuller, as the chosen representatives wrestle with important school matters.

6. An intent Science Club sponsor, Mr. John Layman, helps two club members, Bruce Duncan and Becky Bryan, initiate a project as part of their Royal Crystallographic Society program for the year.

Esther Whiteside helps trim the Student Council Christmas tree.

The Student Council is the voice of the student body. This year 67 representatives, under the leadership of President Jerry Fuller, worked to improve communication between students and administration, started many new worthwhile projects, and served as the nucleus for coordinating all student activities. Among the new undertakings attempted this year were "Senior Slave Day," and "Senior Revenge Week," fund raising projects for the treasury, new trophy cases, repairing the parking lot, doing the groundwork for a projected "Youth Traffic Court," and a new column in the Buzz, "Presidential Point of View," initiated to explain the purposes and projects of the Student Council to the student body.

Student Council members listen attentively to routine business.

The aspiring, young, dramatic, and stage-struck" officers of the Thespians Society are John Oak, Treasurer; Guy Livingston, Clerk; Linda Smith, Secretary; Vince Vaccaro, Vice-President; and Chet Robbins, President.

NATIONAL THESPIAN SOCIETY

To better standards of play production and to acquaint high school students with additional pointers in dramatics are the main goals of the National Thespian Society. For active membership in this honorary society one must earn fifteen points from participating in high school dramatic events. Members aid in play production and raise money to buy needed stage equipment.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

The National Forensic League of North Kansas City High School is an honorary club under the jurisdiction of the national organization. To be admitted, members must have 25 points in tournament speech and debate competition and meet requirements of character and integrity. This year, with the help of their sponsor, Miss Hale, the chapter played host to the Suburban League debate tournament scheduled an invitational tournament of its own, and held a banquet in May.

The officers of N. F. L. gather in front of the plaque inscribed with the name of the outstanding debaters of the year: Reed Black, Vice-President; Doreen Franz, Secretary; Chris Herring, President; and Vince Vaccaro, Treasurer.

The debaters address invitations to over 100 adults asking them to judge at the North Kansas City invitational tournament.

The trophies that 21 schools competed for in the N. K. C. invitational tournament gleam in the spotlight.

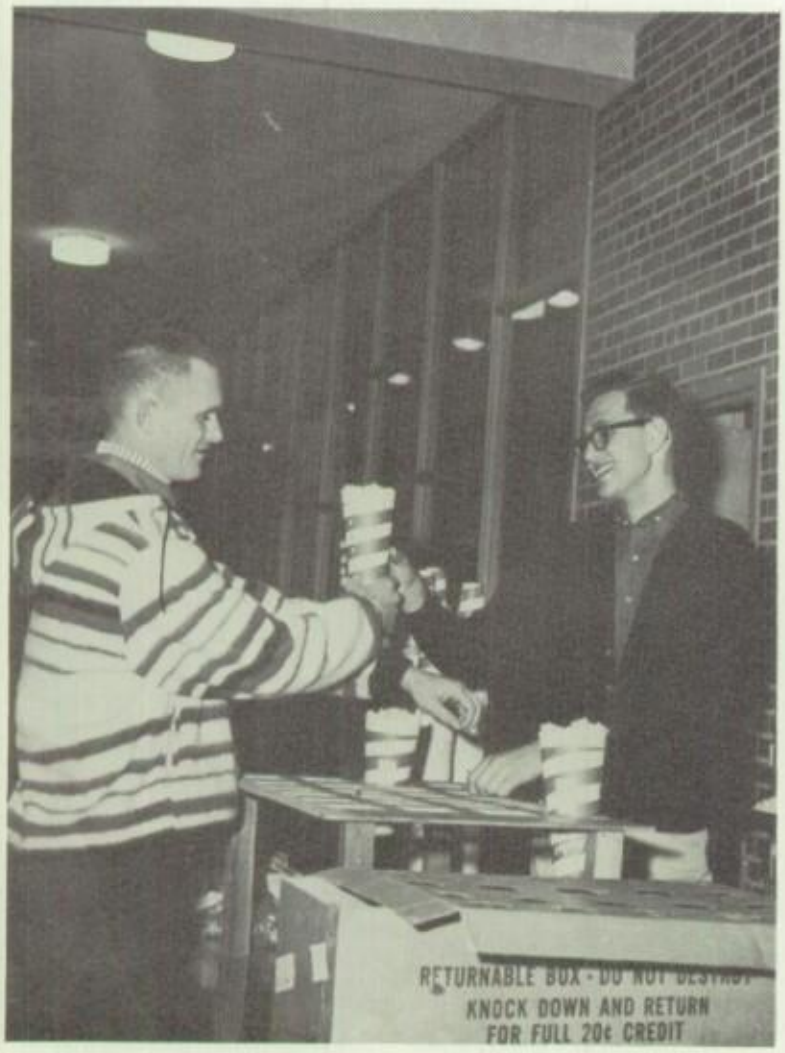
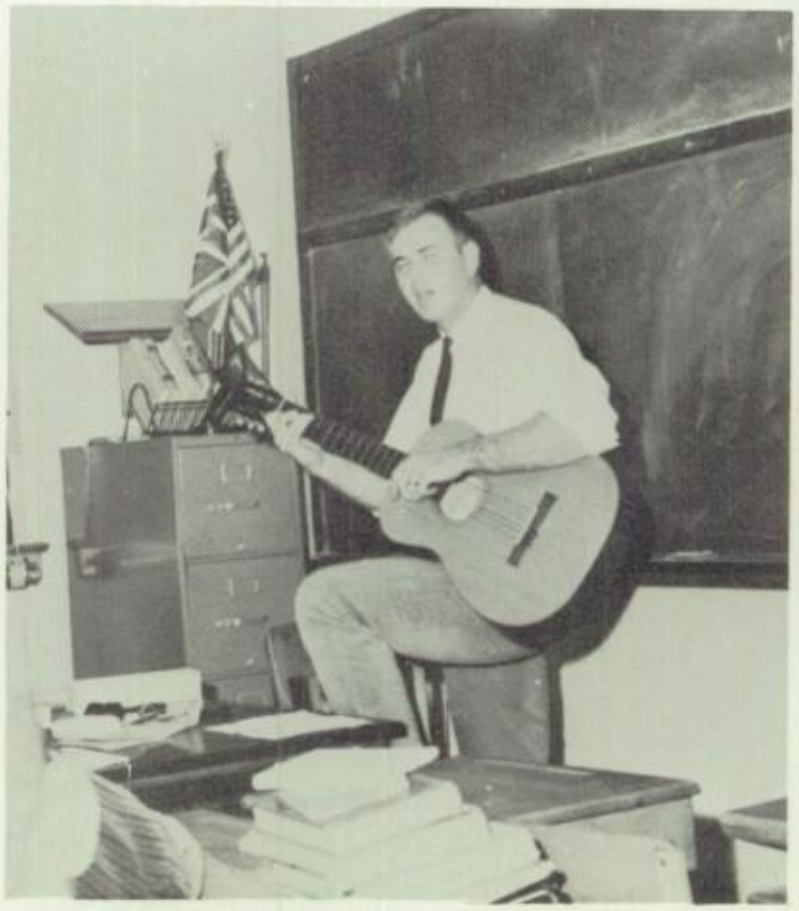
KEY CLUB

Service to the community is the main goal of Key Club. Small, but effective, this group of boys earns money by popcorn sales and other special projects. They then give the majority of the profits to the American Field Service. Part of this profit also goes to sending members of the club to a district convention in the spring. This year the club was honored to be the host club of the convention in Kansas City.



A faithful Key Club member, Steve Moorhouse, sells popcorn to a Hornet fan during half-time intermission.



Mr. Hirni, co-sponsor, this year, displays his musical talents at one of the regular Monday night meetings.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

Marty Snow gives Cheri Vitt a ballot in the mock presidential election without asking her if she is a registered voter.

Political Science Club gives students an opportunity to discuss current political events and to delve into the American form of government. This year the club organized a mock presidential election, was in charge of the school's participation in City Hall Day, took part in the mock United Nations at Park College, and planned a tour of the state capitol in Jefferson City.

The officers of Political Science Club are Jim Dinkins, Vice-President; Cindy Nigro, Parliamentarian; Jan Noonan, Secretary-Treasurer; and Chris Herring, President.

Richard Hadley and Steve Fuller (in background holding the pencil) count ballots in the mock presidential election to see if Northtown students went "All the way with LBJ" or decided to "Go with Goldwater."

This year's officers of French Club are Kathy Schaeffer, President; Clarice Baskin, Vice-President; Kathy Evans, Secretary; Cindy Nigro, Treasurer; and Sheryl Hall, Historian.

FRENCH CLUB

To promote better Franco-American relations by encouraging interest in and couriosity about France—her people, their language, customs, etc.—and striving to satisfy this curiosity, in a manner and atmosphere which is impossible to achieve in the classroom, is the main objective of the French Club. Members of this language club must have had or be presently enrolled in a French class and must have pledged for membership for one week. This year the French Club has been very active in trying to raise money for their trip to Canada or New Orleans immediately after school is out. Among the various fund-raising projects sponsored this year were rummage sales, bake sales, and movies in the auditorium.

John Broyles and other French Club members express feelings of enthusiasm at one of the meetings.

President Kathy Schaffer tells members about the rummage sales at one of the regular Thursday evening meetings.

SPANISH CLUB

The officers of Spanish Club are Margie Yates, Vice-President; Lanell McCann, Secretary; Letha McCall, President; and Paul Berger, Treasurer. The sponsors this year are Miss Isley and Mrs. VonderBruegge.

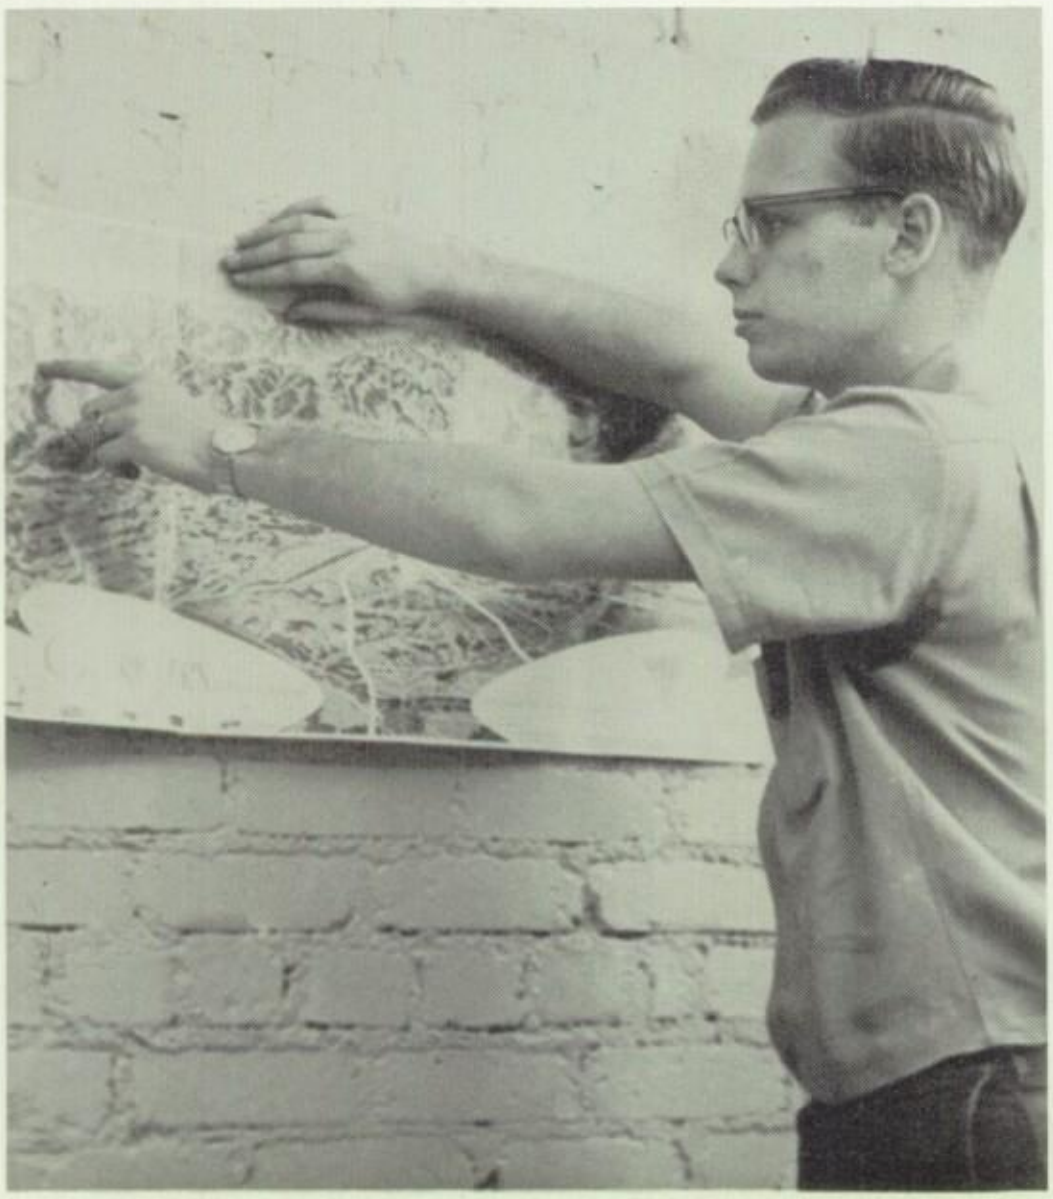
Better understanding of their Southern Hemisphere neighbors is the most important goal of the Spanish Club. This goal is fulfilled at their regular meetings by having our exchange students speak and teach them Spanish dances such as the "Bomba." A big project was the rummage sale, sponsored to raise money for two $100 scholarships awarded to outstanding fourth-year Spanish students.

Various members of this language club learn to do the foreign dances at one of the regularly monthly Tuesday night meetings.

GERMAN CLUB

The officers of this year's club are John Herleman, Vice-President; Dennis Lambert, President; Esther Whiteside, Secretary, Treasurer; and Dave Webster, Sgt.-at-Arms.

Supporters and members of German Club go all out during International Week to promote their club and support their team.



President Dennis Lambert points out one of the interesting spots around the city of Munich, Germany.

German Club gives students of the language an excellent chance to converse in German and broaden their knowledge of the customs and culture of "Deutschland." Frequent slides and movies, along with refreshments native of Germany, make each meeting a new and interesting experience. In the spring the German Club had a wonderful time attending the "Mai Fest" in Hermann, Missouri.

RUSSIAN CLUB

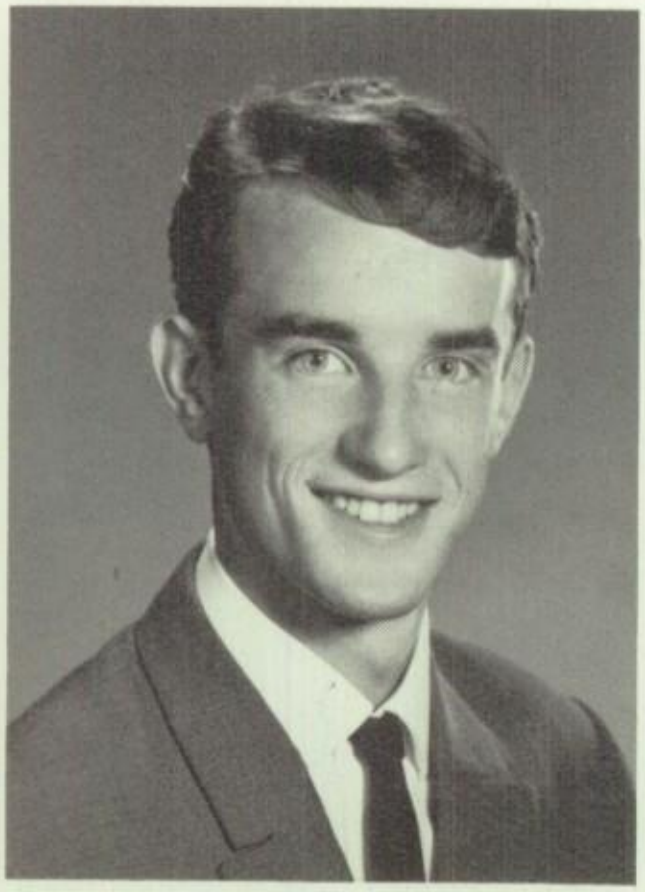
The officers of Russian Club see what's new in the Moscow Dispatch.

Sgt. at Arms, Larry Hawk; Treasurer, Sharon Gregory; Secretary, Jody Johnson; and President John Amorosa.

The aim of Russian Club is to enrich student understanding of the Russian people, their language and culture, and to supplement the study of the Russian language by promoting and maintaining the interest of the students. Their special project was to sponsor a dance in order to raise funds for AFS.

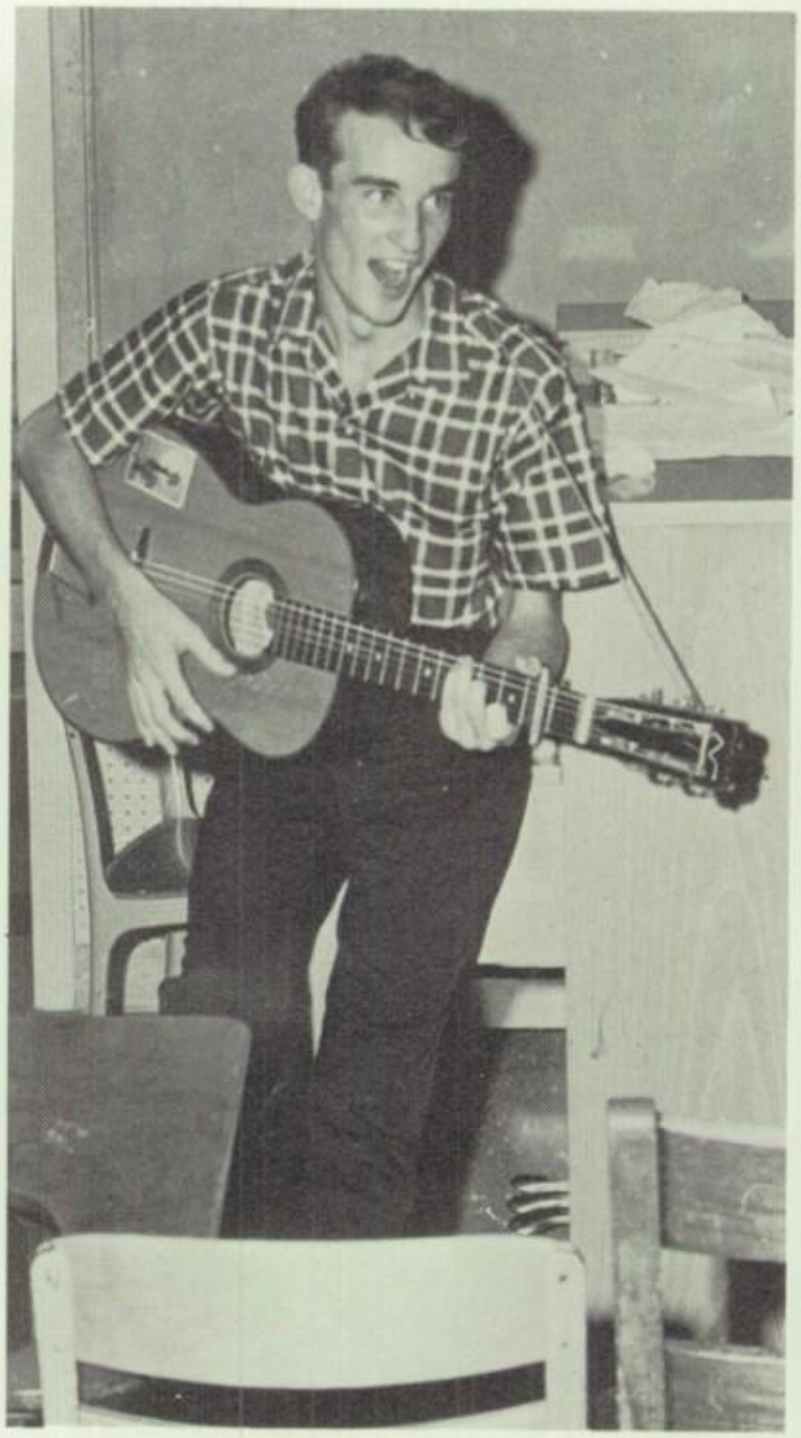
Keeping up with current developments in Russia, the officers paste up the picture of the new Soviet Premier, Leonid Breshnev.

The new leader of the U. S. S. R., scowls down upon some capitalist fun.

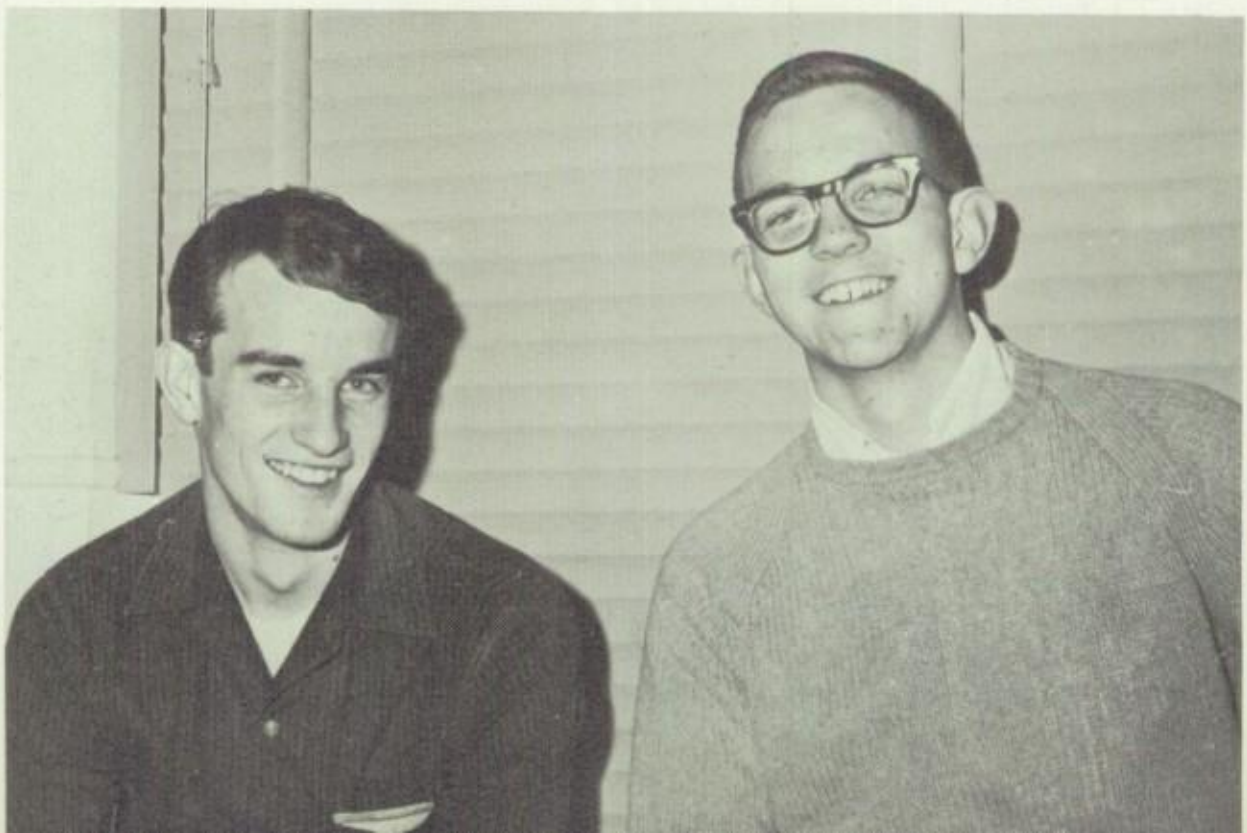


CLAIR-YVES CHAUVET

Clair-Yves Chauvet, our AFS student from Toulon, France, resided this year with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Snow and their son, Marty. Clair-Yves was active in many school activities such as French Club, Spanish Club, AFS Club, Hi-Y, and Student Council. His Gallic charm and international wit have won him many friends on this side of the Atlantic. His American friends will remember him for his ready smile and exuberant character. On his part, Clair-Yves says he will take back to his native country this impression of America, "I found Americans to be always busy, on-the-go, and friendly. Their friendship kept me from being homesick for France during the year, instead when I return to France, I am afraid I will be homesick for America."



Clair-Yves leads the French Club in a stirring rendition of "Alouette."



The smiles of Clair-Yves and Marty, his American brother, reflect the genuine camaraderie that has been the result of their year spent together via the AFS program.

FIELD SERVICE FRIENDS

Erika and her American family get acquainted at the airport a few minutes after she arrived by jet from Lima.

ERIKA POLACK
PERU

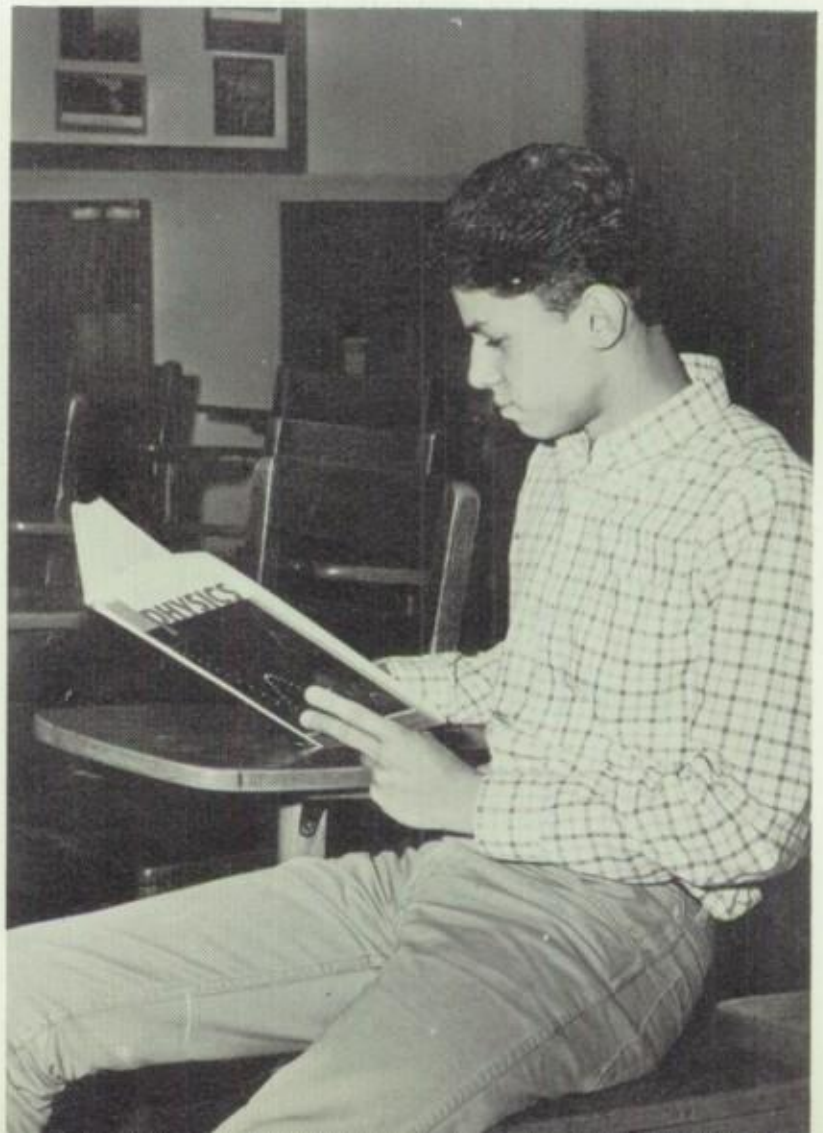
Erika Polack was NKC's representative from Lima, Peru. Our South American friend made her home with the L. L. Johnston family and their daughter, Jeanette. Active participation in Spanish Club, French Club, AFS Club, Y-teens, and Pep Club, and honorary membership in the Student Council gave Erika many opportunities to make new friends. About her year with us Erika says, "In the year I have spent with you here in NKC I have enjoyed and learned more than ever before, and I will always remember it as the most interesting and wonderful experience in all my life."

Erika spent much of her free time at the school library studying, drawing, or writing letters to her friends.

Hassan Fawzy and his brother, Chris Herring, stand together in one of their few spare minutes.

HASSAN FAWZY
EGYPT

Hassan Fawzy, our AFS student from Egypt, spent the year with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Herring and son Chris. This year Hassan was an active participant in Hi-Y, AFS Club, intramurals, and Student Council. With sincere personality and winning charm, Hassan has furthered the cause of international friendship. When asked how he felt about leaving America in the spring, Hassan answered, " I have always wanted to come to America, and now I will be sorry to leave it."

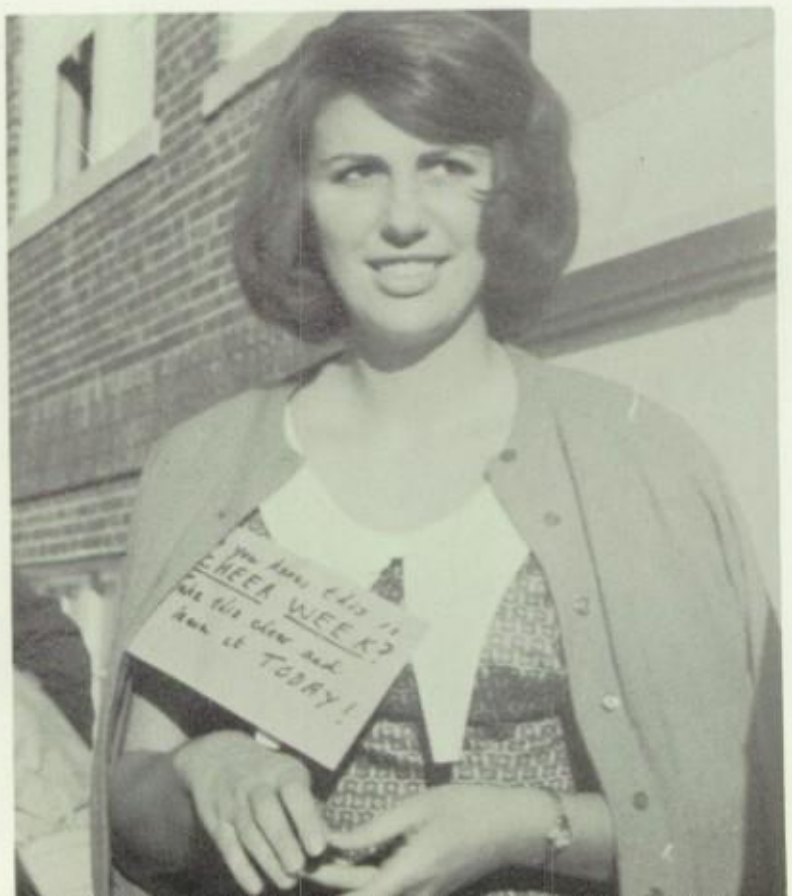


Hassan earnestly studies for an upcoming physics test.

Alida and her American sister, Esther Whiteside, gaze at the school in which they spent one short year together.

ALIDA STEYN
SOUTH AFRICA

Alida Steyn, our AFS student from Standerton, South Africa, was only the second representative from her country in the area. Youngest of six children, Alida was in for quite a change when she came here, since in the G. W. Whiteside family she was the older sister of two little brothers and her American sister, Esther. Very active in school life, Alida was a member of Pep Club and AFS Club and was an honorary member of the Student Council. She participated in various speech and debate tournaments around the state and appeared in the one-act play, "The Lesson." Due to her excellent speaking ability, Alida was frequently chosen to represent the KC AFS chapter on television and at other important functions. Her friendly smile mirrored her warmth of personality and brought her many fine relationships as she strived to make the most out of her year in America.



Like all good Pep Club members, Alida urged Hornets to learn the cheers during "cheer week."

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE CLUB

Greg Hagg and Linda Farmer urge a prospective customer to buy a "Bell for Peace." This year the A. F. S. Club sold almost 500 of these bells to raise money for next year's foreign exchange students.

The A.F.S. Club was formally organized only this year, but it soon became one of the most active organizations in the school. The goal of the club is to help North Kansas City High School do its part in the struggle for world peace by raising money to bring foreign students to our school. This year, the club sold "Bells for Peace," sponsored a variety show, and organized a yearbook signing party.

The officers of the newest club in the school smile at the completion of a successful year: Chris Herring, Parliamentarian; Jeanette Johnston, Vice-President; Greg Hagg, President; Phyllis Fariell, Secretary; and Sharon Guthrie, Treasurer.

The A. F. S. social got off to a swinging start, with Hornets buzzing around the refreshment table.

Y-TEENS

Y-teen members strive to grow in friendship and knowledge with others and in understanding of themselves. This service organization, sponsored for teenage girls by the YMCA, held a Christmas party for the Franklin School girls, World Week of Prayer services in the school auditorium, various fund-raising drives for AFS, and published the Buzz Book. Y-teens also sponsored their annual Sweetheart Ball and their Mother-Daughter Tea.

The officers of Y-Teens gather on the steps of N. K. C. to congratulate themselves on a successful year. President, Sharron Stephenson; Vice-President, Katy Holmes; Secretary, Cheri Vilt; Treasurer, Jan Noonan; and Co-Historians, Phyllis Farriel and Linda Wilson.

HI-Y

The jovial officers of this year's club are Marty Snow, Secretary; Mark Harris, Vice-President; Charles Berglund, Sgt.-at-Arms; and Richard Winkler, President.

All vote "Yea" at one of the regular Hi-Y meetings.

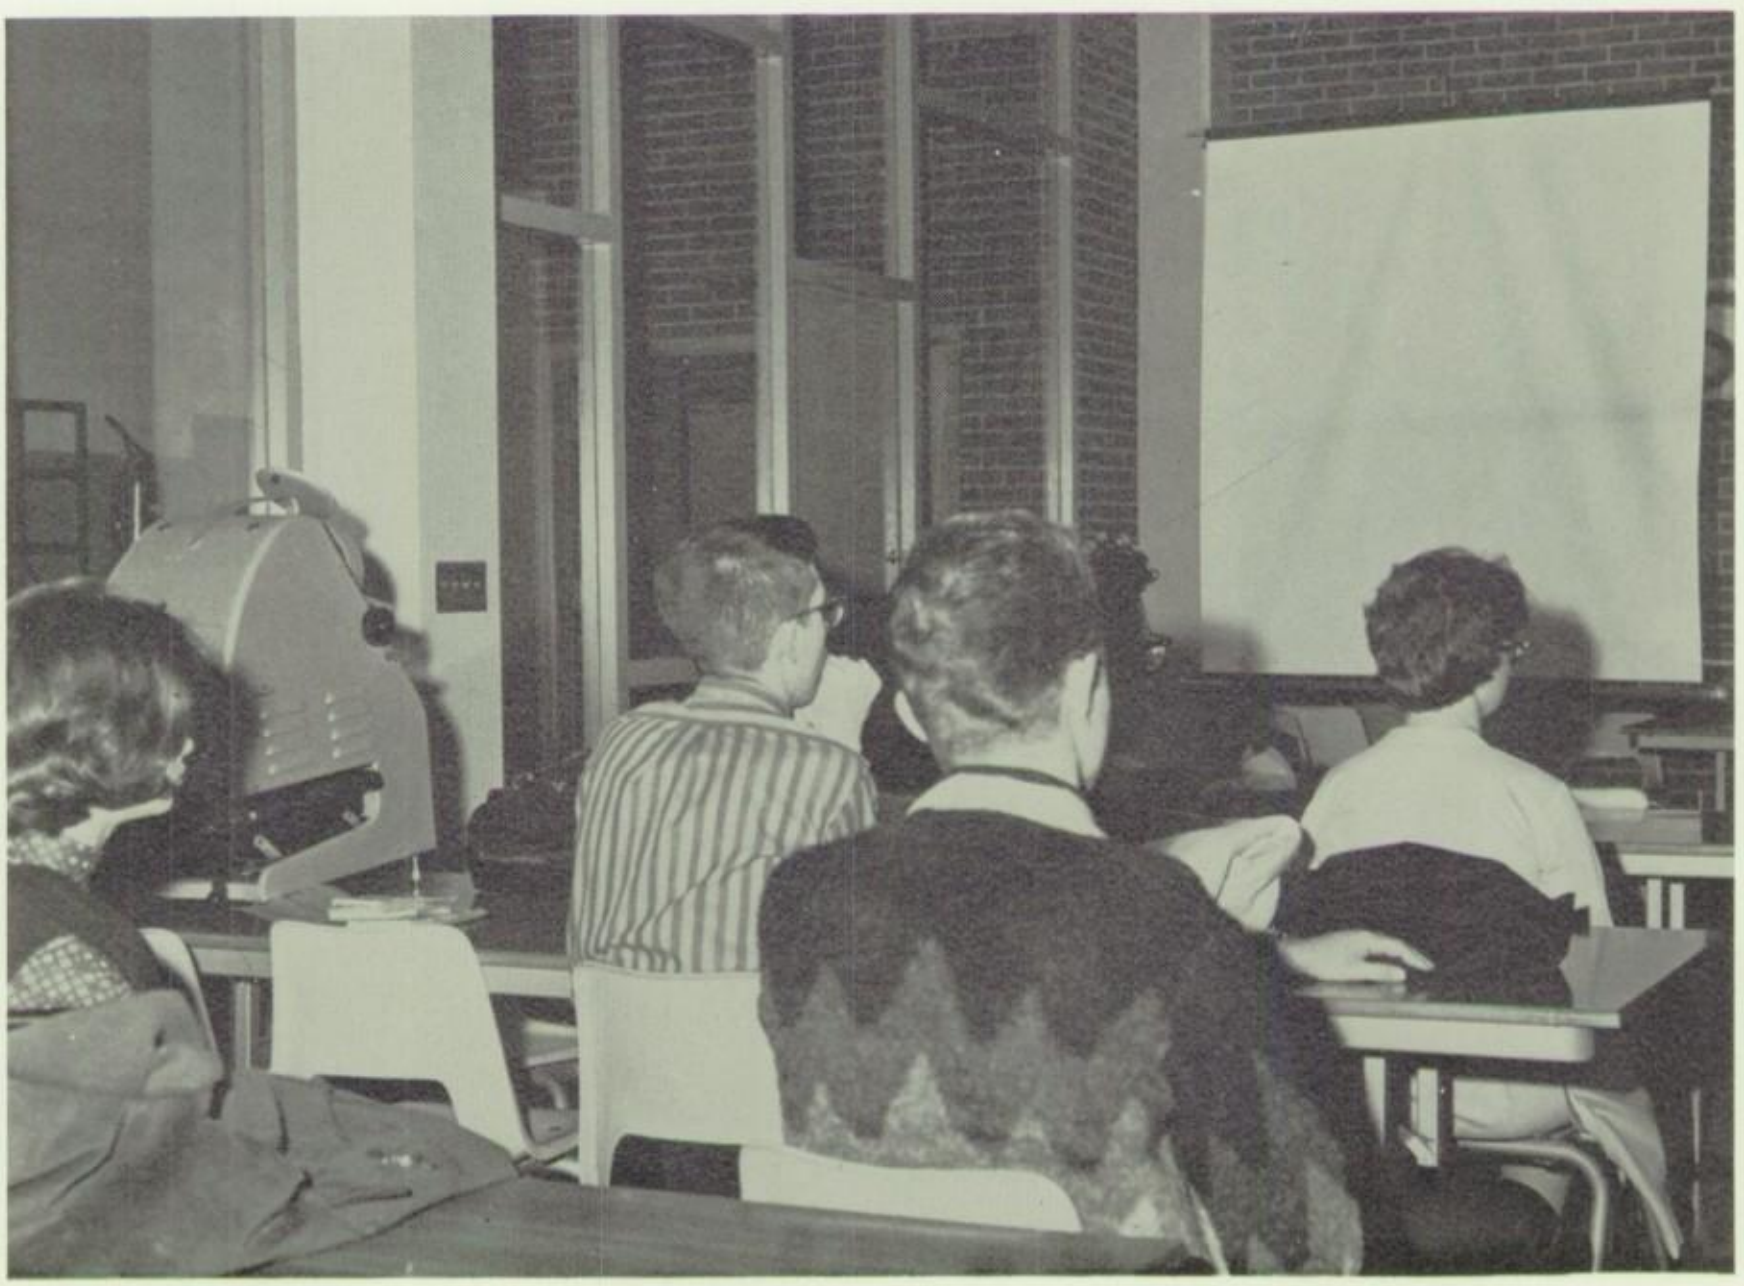
Sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., the Hi-Y strives to build and maintain high standards and activities for high school boys. To be a member of this club, one must be a male junior or senior at the high school. This year the Hi-Y held a Pizza party on the sixteenth of January. They are also planning to send a representative to Peru.

Dave Bramwell and friends create a disturbance and attract the attention of everyone at the Hi-Y meetings.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

The officers of FBLA pictured are Secretary, Mary Sewell; Vice-President, Nancy Ware; and Treasurer, Peggy Hodkins. Not pictured are President, Bob Freeman; and Reporter, Jim Coleman.

FBLA offers students interested in business careers the opportunity to develop competent, aggressive business techniques; more thorough understanding of business occupations; and encourage their improvement in scholarship and school loyalty. The only requirement for membership is to be regularly enrolled in a business subject at NKC. This year FBLA adopted a family at Christmas, helped with registration at Open House, and sponsored AMS Arithmetic and Spelling Tests. At the award assembly, FBLA honored the senior considered the most excellent businessman.



Students prepare to watch one of the interesting programs presented by the Future Business Leaders of America

F. H. A. members cuddle a cerebral palsy baby adopted this year by the club. Thanks to the generosity of the Future Homemakers of America the infant was equipped with a complete layette.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

F.H.A. emphasizes the importance of appreciating the satisfaction of homemaking. Their theme for this year was "Youth's Part in America's Future." They entertained speakers on varied subjects from democracy to marriage and sponsored a Valentine's Day party at a Cerebral Palsy Center.

The officers for this year are Phyllis Raymer, Historian; Sherry Hughs, Vice-president; Mrs. Garner, Sponsor; Carolyn Pearson, President; Pam Hays, Secretary; Margi Nell Lasater, Treasurer; Alice Van Slyke, Junior Degree Chairman; and Miss Collings, Sponsor.

Members listen attentively to the business at a routine meeting.

The Beatles, (N. K. C. style) before their smash performance at the fashion show.

President Linda Snavely and Vice-President Gail Sampson explain to the group the plans for the assistance to the needy family.

FUTURE NURSES' CLUB

To stimulate interest in the various fields of nursing and to inform potential nurses, doctors, physical therapists, and other hospital aides of the various phases of medicine are the main objectives of the Future Nurses' Club. Sponsored by Mrs. Beigel, the club presented various meeting programs such as speakers from the local hospitals, films on various diseases, and tours of Trinity Lutheran Hospital and their School of Nursing. The club also collected food for a needy family on Thanksgiving and made Easter favors for the children patients at Children's Mercy Hospital.

The officers of the 1965 Future Nurses' Club are Susan Rardon, Historian; Lavonne Ridder, Treasurer; Sharron Stephensen, Secretary; Gail Sampson, Vice-President; and Linda Snavely, President.

A couple of Florence Nightengales, Cheri Vitt and Marilyn Dingerson, view a film on polio and its causes and cures.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The officers of Future Teachers of America are Mary Ann Sissom, President; Sara Price, Historian; Kathy McCarty, Secretary; Karen Rule, Vice-President; and Linda Winter, Treasurer.

The Future Teachers of America is a club designed to broaden the knowledge of the teaching profession for students who are interested in becoming teachers. This year, the club took a tour through the special education unit in Norclay School, and held panel discussions on the problems and rewards of the teaching profession. As their special project, the club's members worked at the North Kansas City Training School during their study halls.

Kathy McCarty smiles as the special education children play.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Among the varied sports the girls participate in is table tennis. Here, two members prepare for a rousing battle using skill and co-ordination.

One of the first events on this year's agenda was a picnic at Macken Park. Nena Hall is telling the sports enthusiasts about the activities and purposes of G.A.A.

The Girls' Athletic Association is a club designed to interest girls to participate in sports such as soccer, basketball, volleyball, bowling, softball, and minor sports. The requirement for membership includes obtaining two points by participating in a certain number of games. The highlights of the year are the student-faculty game and the G.A.A. banquet at the end of the term to commemorate a successful year.

"N" CLUB

The N-Club of North Kansas City High School consists of all boys who have lettered in a varsity sport. To be a service to both the school and the community is the main objective of this lettermen's organization. Among the various charitable projects conducted by the club this year was the collection of clothing and food for needy families at Christmas.

Lettermen officers of N-Club this year are Jay Cummings, Vice-President; Greg Miller, President; Fred Painter, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Chris Christensen, Secretary-Treasurer.

Mike Levine and Mickey Kerr display the food and clothing collected over the Christmas Holidays for needy families.

President Greg Miller presides over a meeting of the intellectual, muscular, and attentive (?) N-Club lettermen.

PEP BAND

From "Sweet Georgia Brown" to the "Alma Mater" the NKC Pep Band's selections kept the crowd clapping at those home basketball games. Led by Mr. Robertson, and occasionally by Mr. Bird, the Pep Band boosted school spirit while the members themselves sounded as lively as the games for which they played.

Two earnest clarinetists concentrate on their part.

Clayton Kirkland adds his "um-pah" to the clarinet section.

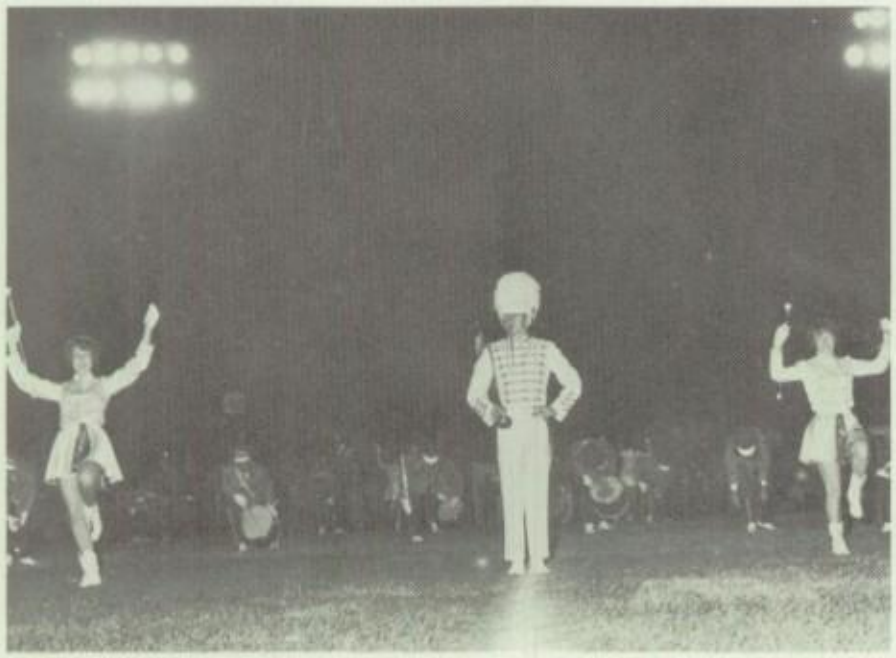
Mr. Bird, standing in for Mr. Robertson, and the members of Pep Band wait calmly for the half-time buzzer to signal the start of their playing.

The drum section takes a break before their next cue.

Les Sires and his trusty trombone form a soulful profile against the glare of the fieldhouse lights.

DRUM MAJOR AND MAJORETTES

Drum major Mike Stevens and his harem, Mary Hixson, Linda Crisp, Sheila Ming, Sandy Klingler, and Tanis Kelley pose after a Hornet victory.



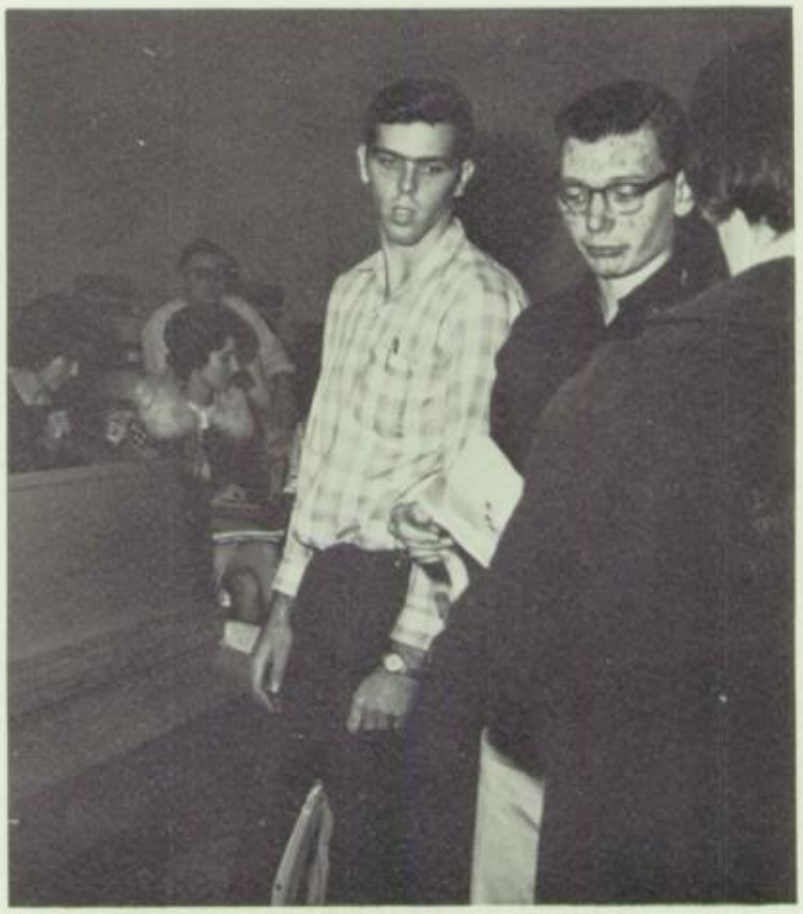
The band and majorettes pause at the end of their performance for a rousing round of applause.

Tanis Kelly, Linda Crisp, and Mary Hixson take a breather from their strenuous performances.

MODERN MUSIC MASTERS

The officers of Tri-M are Jan Hoch, Treasurer; Becky Barbe, Secretary; Kathy Evans, Historian; James Brandon, Vice-President; and Paul Berger, President.

Modern Music Masters is an honorary service organization organized to further the cause of good music in the school and community. To join the club, apprentices must have grade average of 'M' or better, must be in a performing organization, must pass through an apprenticeship, and later pass a written and performance test.



Charles Kumer and President, Paul Berger, turn to the "side-lines" for some musical cues during a regular Tri-M meeting.

ARTIST'S APPRENTICES

The officers of Artist's Apprentices are Charlene McKisson, Secretary; Rop Payne, Treasurer; John Pruessner, Vice-President; and Russell Buchan, President.

With water colors and oil paintings as a background, three of the members of Art Club absorb valuable tips for their next masterpieces.

This Artist's Apprentices gives members a chance to appreciate art and understand a wide variety of art forms. The only requirement for membership is that a student enjoy art. This year, the club visited the Nelson Art Gallery, and held a picnic at Swope Park.

1965

Engulfed by problems and questions, Mr. Leimkuhler, yearbook advisor, still manages to smile bravely.

Co-editors Esther Whiteside and Carol Hamersen find that their job demands brow-beating staff members, brow-beating each other, group therapy, photography problems, deadline meetings, and much, much overtime. Still they manage to keep smilin'.

Members of the Junior and Senior section, Carol Proctor, Kathy McCarty, section editor; Diane Lammy; and Sherri Easterday, strive to fit the hundreds of student pictures properly on the pages.

This year's Purgold staff found itself faced with a very large job indeed. Since NKC now had 2200 juniors and seniors and 98 staff members, the yearbook had to expand to 250 pages. The staff compiled sections representing curriculum activities, sports, and clubs and strived to relate with these pictures and words the story of the 1965 school year.

Gary Devine, the lone member of the Index Section, checks his pages to make sure all are correct.

Janice Bland, sports editor Paul Burcham, and Daryl Shackleford discuss the best way to co-ordinate the Sports Section.

Clair-Yves Chauvet, Jody Johnson, chairman Charlene McKisson, and Mike Stevens of the Coronation Ball Committee put last minute touches on the carnival horses.

PURGOLD STAFF

Dennis Lambert and section editor Gail Sampson bring order out of chaos in the Club section.

Section editor Linda Wilson, Jan Hoch, and Kathy Diether seem content that they haven't disrupted too many classes in putting together the Faculty and Curriculum section.

Doug Allen, Bill Reinert, Erika Polack and section editor Kathy Evans wield the paper cutter with a vengeance as they crop pictures for the Activities section.

Business Managers Jeanette Johnston and Dee Elliott find out that conducting a sales campaign, checking the thousands of yearbook receipts, alphabetizing these, and collecting picture packages or the money for them is nothing compared to figuring out how to distribute the yearbooks once they get here.

The five Purgold photographers, Phil Edwards, Beth Dulligan, Doug McLaughlin, John Kuhns, and Jerry Pruitt seem surprised at having their pictures taken for a change.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT

Junior Achievement is an organization which was formed to give young people an opportunity to complete among themselves in businesses organized by themselves and to enjoy a profit which can often be made. The officers of the many sponsoring concerns in the Kansas City area give their time to train these young people in the intricacies of the business world.

A few of the many participants in the Junior Achievement program here at North Kansas City High School.

Gisela White, Bill Webster, Terry Page, and Chuck Studor study the methods of crystallography.

SCIENCE CLUB

Science Club has been organized to give students an opportunity to further their interest of science and physics beyond the classroom. This year the Science Club went to the observatory at Park College to observe an eclipse of the moon. This proved to be an exciting and interesting opportunity to see nature at work. Another phase of Science Club is the Royal Crystallographic Society. This section was organized expressly for the purpose of studying the growth of crystals.

The general and sectional officers of Pep Club stand on the field house bleachers where every Friday night during basketball season 400 girls cheer their team to victory. General officers: Candy Cain, Vice-President; Kathy Crownhart, Secretary; Linda Wilson, President; Beverly Pruessner, Historian; Susan Wagner, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Cheri Vitt, Treasurer. Sectional officers: "N" Stephanie Furgerson, President; Cheryl Steinmetz, Treasurer; Kathy Evans, Secretary; Sharon Guthrie, Sgt.-at-Arms. Section "K" Phyllis Fariell, Treasurer; Marilyn Dingerson, President; Lanell McCann, Secretary; Katy Holmes, Vice-President; and Judy Essary, Sgt.-at-Arms. Section "C" Jeanette Johnston, Treasurer; Nan Bash, Sgt.-at-Arms; Linda Winter, Vice-President; Susan Hurst, Secretary; and Esther Whiteside, President.

PEP CLUB

Pep Club is the largest club in the school with a membership of over 400 girls. To wear the distinctive purple and gold uniform, a girl must maintain good conduct grades and keep up her membership points. This year Pep Club, under the leadership of President Linda Wilson, and sponsored by Miss Millie Thies, initiated the "Powder Puff" football game, held cheer weeks, decorated bulletin boards, and promoted school spirit. Besides building interest in school sports, Pep Club also performs a community service by helping charity drives. The real value of Pep Club far above all its duties and goals for school spirit is its challenge to girls for leadership and to the school for pride and loyalty.

As the Hornets intercept a pass, the various members of Pep Club radiate with enthusiasm and display their "peppy" spirit.

PEP CLUB

Susan Stamm gives a balloon to a very small Hornet fan.

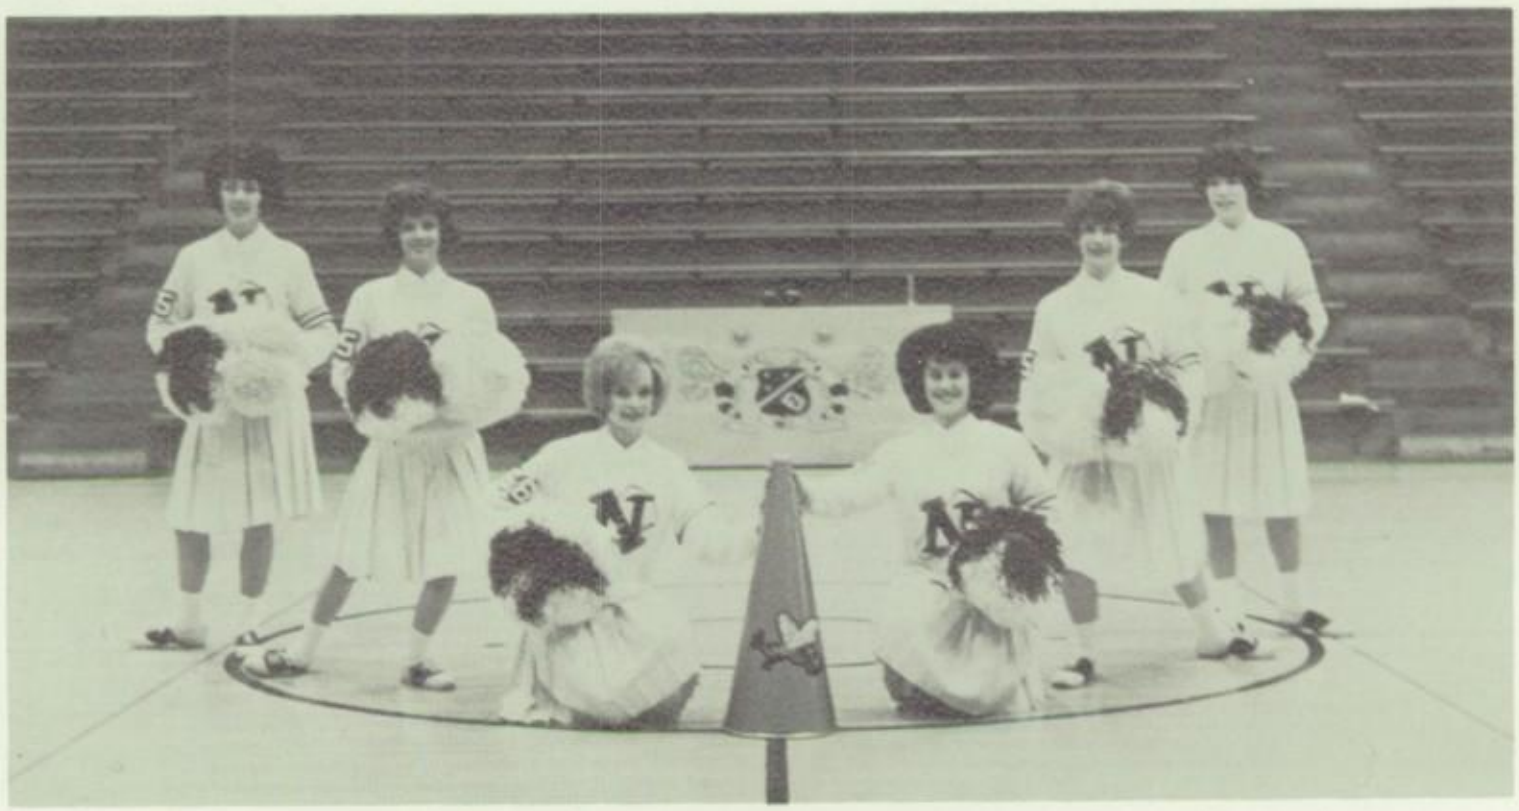
Jeanette Johnston checks a fellow Pep Club member's skirt to see if it meets the required length.

Clever decorations and encouragement for school spirit could always be found on the annex corridor bulletin board every game day.

Nan Bash pastes up slogans on the bus just before it leaves.

The cheerleaders try to whip up some enthusiasm in the student body before school.

CHEERLEADERS



This year's "Hornet Six" are Sandy Stevens, Kathy Brown, Linda Dunbar, Linda Snell, Ruth Guzley, and Donna Matthews.

Each spring six girls are chosen to generate school spirit and cheer the team on to victory. Back flips, splits, pompoms, and chants and yells are all devices used by these girls to keep the Hornets "the best team in the nation."

Kathy Brown and Linda Dunbar jump for joy as the Hornetmen play on to a victory.

A side-line chant is lead by Ruth Guzley.

..AND 1,085 JUNIORS COMPLETE LARGEST STUDENT BODY IN NKC HISTORY

This year's Junior Class, strangers to high school life, quickly accustomed themselves to the complexities of NKCHS's busy atmosphere. Besides having to locate lockers, classrooms, offices, and lunchrooms, these new Hornets were engaged in meeting new people, making new friends, and knuckling down to that "next to the last" year of secondary education.

1. Linda Carroll found out that the policeman in front of the school was really a nice guy in spite of being "undateable."

2. To many Juniors it was a year of "ups and downs" . . . . up one stairway and down the under . . . all with that familiar load of books.

3. The walk to Dagg was another new and exciting experience for Juniors, and they soon found out that it had to be made, no matter what the weather was. Diane Piraro finds snow just another element to overcome in her daily trek.

4. Music seemed to soothe the savage Junior as many of their number participated in vocal or instrumental activities.

5. Anita Bryant displays a handful of artificial roses she made herself for the Homecoming festivities.

6. To capitalize on some free time during the lunch hour, a Junior relaxes in the Magazine Corner of the library.

7. The hurried dash to the lunch line whets the appetite of this Junior who finds choosing a package of cookies a rather serious business.

CLASS OF '66

The Junior class officers are treasurer, Debbie Cone; secretary, Margret Truhlar; vice-president, Donna Matthews; president, Jim Dinkins.

After weeks of long anticipation, the juniors proudly display the symbol of the class of '66.

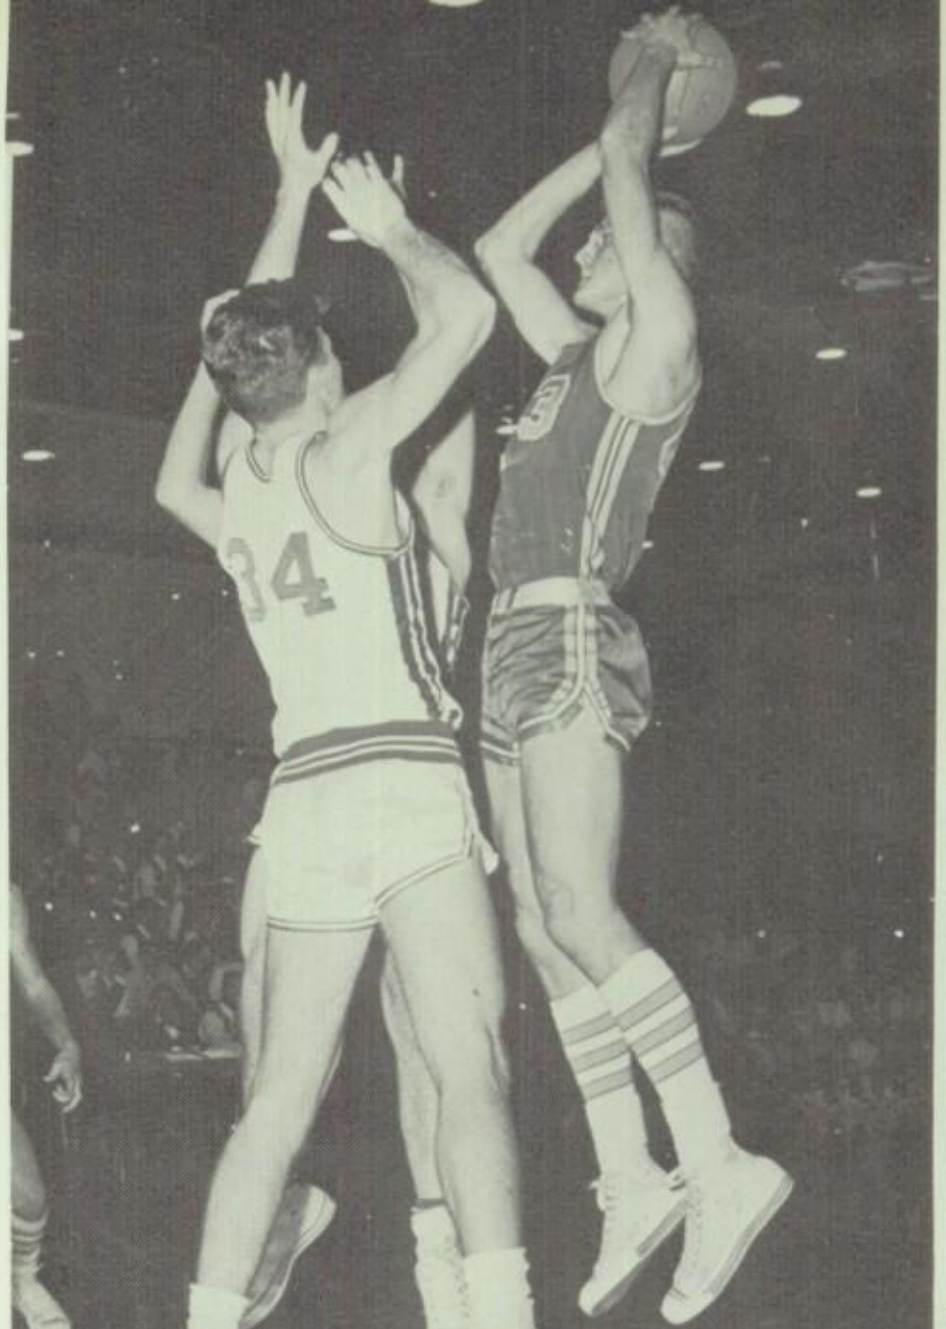
Teamwork, Spirit, and Practice Pay Off in the Hornet Athletic Program



The thrill of a last second score, the agony of a hard-fought defeat, the excitement of the unexpected, along with a frenzied yell from the spectators all combine to imprint the 1964-1965 sports season on the memory of every Hornet.

1. Jim Stark jumps high over the heads of the opposition to try to dump in two more points for the side of the Purple and Gold.

2. Not to be outdone, the cross country runners put on a final burst of speed as they near the end of a grueling practice run.

3. NKC's wrestling program has become one of the most popular athletic offerings at NKCHS as evidenced here by Chris Christianson's obvious determination to pin his opponent at a home meet.

4. As always the fight for the pigskin is a tension-packed moment until it is certain who has possession.

5. An excited Pep Club cheers madly as a Hornet ball handler sinks a lay-up for the loyal fans who pack the fieldhouse at every home game.

6. Two Northtown wrestlers participate in a demonstration before the student body at a special sports assembly.

7. Coach Megown sends in word from the bench during a crucial moment in a football encounter.

Despite a three man effort, a long pass falls short of completion.

Hornets Daze the Knights

Tony Barnes, Northtown's place kicker, laces up for a big Knight.

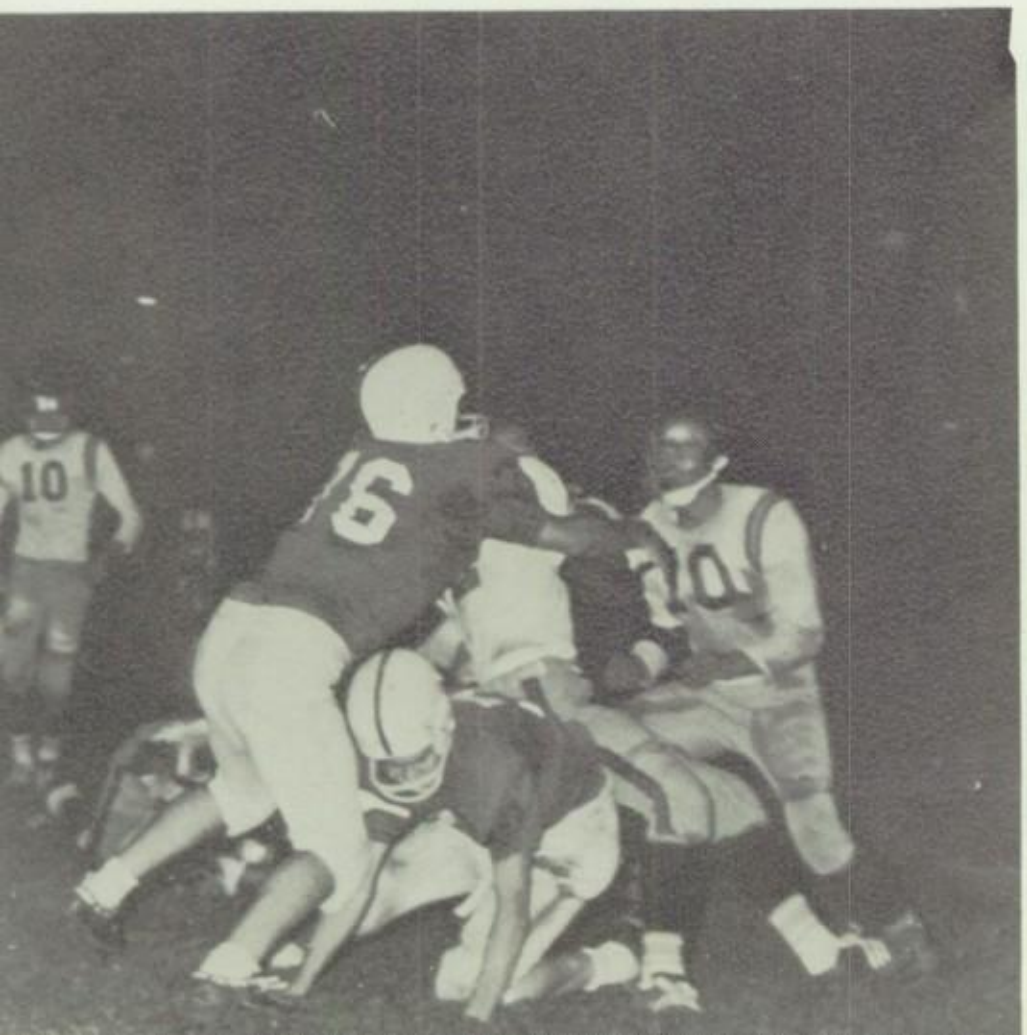
Ranked second in the city, the Hornets started their football season by defeating the Southeast Knights with a 19-13 victory. The brisk fifty degree temperature roused the Hornets to action as Tony Barnes, Jim Stark and Gary Ryan all scored touchdowns and Stan Pippin completed a conversion. Southeast's total score of 13 points ended the game with an opening victory for N.K.C.

Lancers Slash Northtown

The Shawnee Mission East Lancers pushed through the Hornet line to hand N.K.C. a 19-7 defeat at our first home game. The Lancers tallied 18 points on smooth evasions of the Hornet tacklers. A complete conversion totaled the Lancers score to 19. Hornets' balloons and spirits rose in the fourth quarter as Jay Cummings came across with Northtown's only touchdown.

Sweeping around right end, Jerry Greene nearly escapes a Lancer tackler.

The Hawklet defense found its strength in spurts.

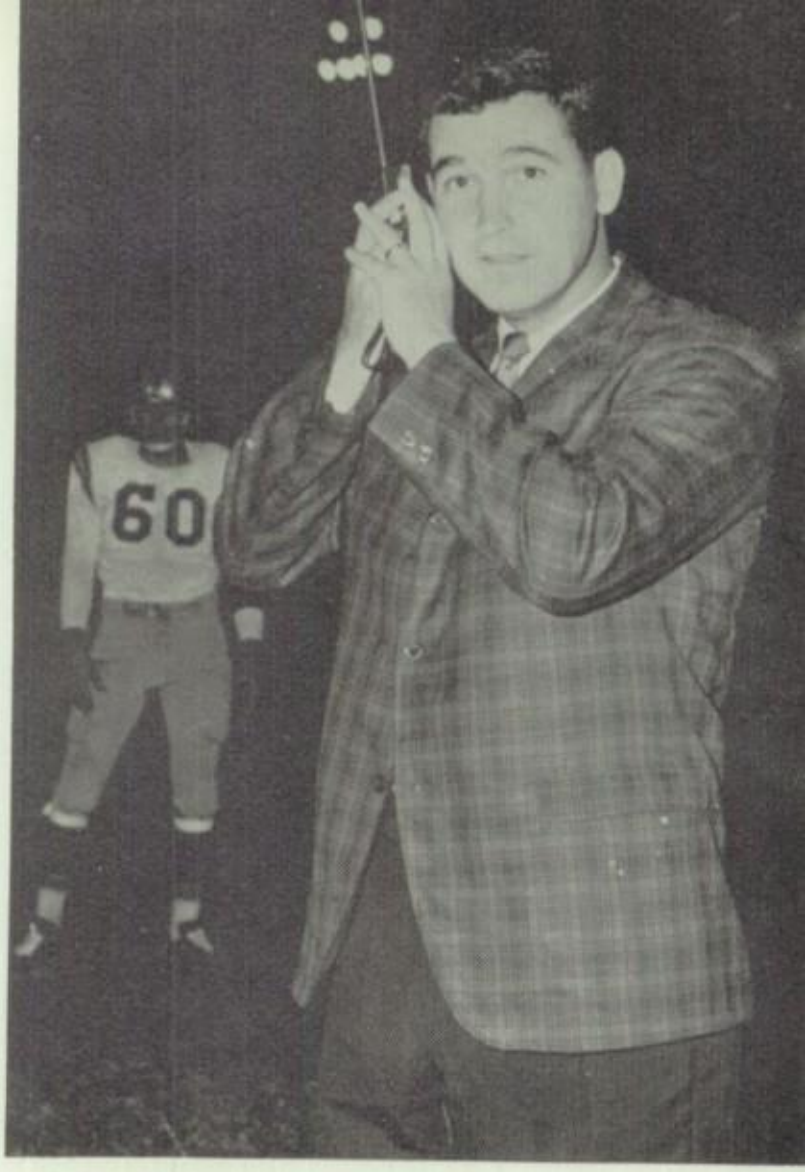


Hornets Pluck Hawklets

Victory rode on the heels of defeat as the Hornets won their third game by a narrow 14-13 margin. A tied score was prevented when a Hornet player broke through the Hawklets' line to deflect an attempted kick. Highlights of the game included a 47 yard run by Jay Cummings, a 7 yard touchdown by Jim Stark, and two successful extra points by Tony Barnes. The Hornet linemen also turned in outstanding performances by stopping the Hawklets six times within N.K.C.'s 25 yard line.

Yellowjackets Rule the Hive

High hopes for the battle between N.K.C. and the Center Yellowjackets faded into defeat as Center rushed over the Hornets in a 27-0 victory. The fast Center unit stunned Northtown with a 21 point first quarter, while holding the Hornets to 46 rushing yards.



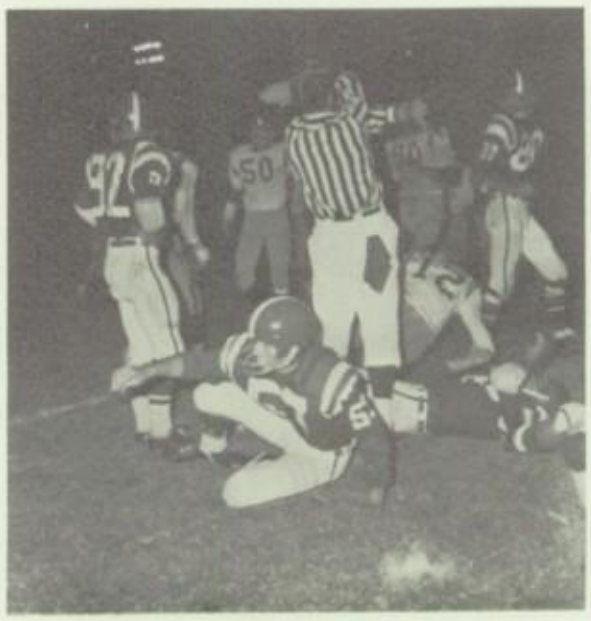
Coach Megown employs a walkie-talkie in planning strategy for football combat.

Greg Perkins plunges the last yard toward the goal line.

Caught on the heel, Jay Cummings tumbles to a first-and-ten.

Hornet Victory Was UnBEARable

A 14 point deficit at half time shocked the Hornets into action as N.K.C. rallied for a 21-20 victory over William Chrisman. Harold Grissom starred by scoring two touchdowns and a P.A.T. Tony Barnes tallied another touchdown and two conversions. Thrilling moments of the game included two pass interceptions, one by Tom Jacobs and another by Chris Christenson.



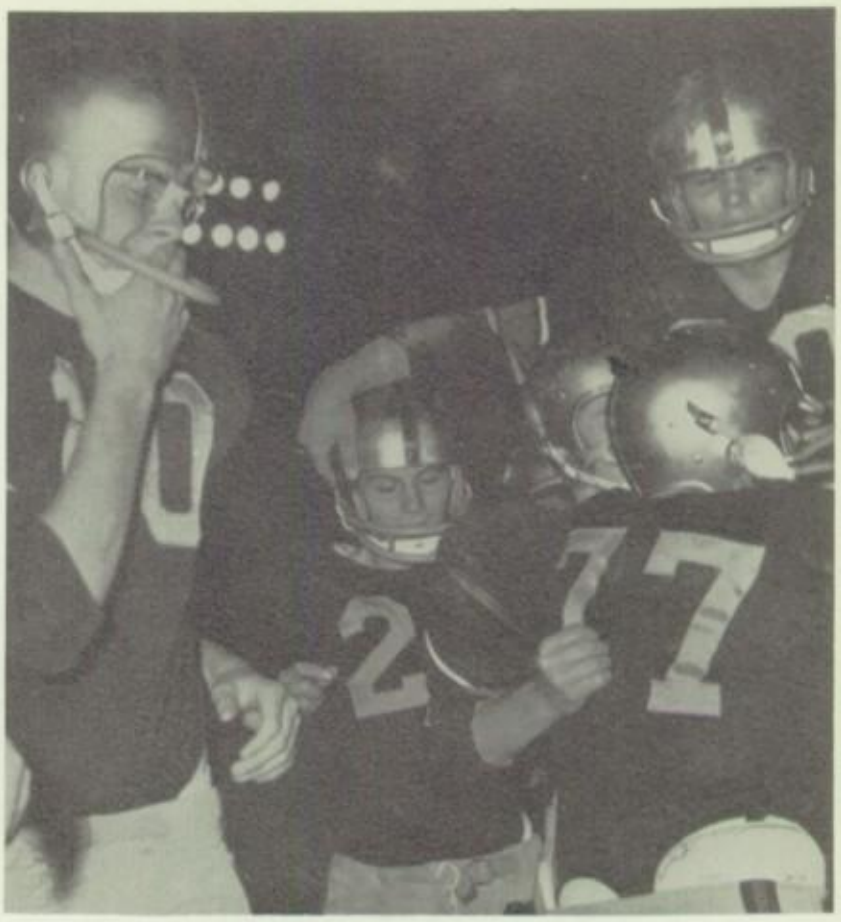
Official time-out is called for discussion and recuperation.

Enveloped in Ruskin defense, Jim Stark fights a losing battle to gain yardage.

Hornets Lower Eagles' Egos

Before a Homecoming crowd of several thousand, the Hornets romped to a complete victory over the Ruskin Eagles. Defensively, Jim Sims was constantly in the spotlight with a pass interception and serveral pass deflections. N.K.C.'s combined defensive effort held the Eagles scoreless while the Hornets' 41 point total was compiled on six touchdowns by six different players and five P.A.T.'s. This 41-0 victory was one of the largest in Northtown's Homecoming history.

Coach Galbraith emphasizes that football involves planning as well as playing.



Harold Grissom wins a free ride from team mates for fine fullbacking.

Stooping to conquer, Chet Robbins holds a Patriot linebacker to minimum yardage.

Loyalty Not Enough For Patriots

A 33 to 7 defeat spoiled Truman High's Homecoming as N.K.C. won its fifth game of the year. Among the Hornet star players Harold Grissom and Jay Cummings were each credited with two touchdowns. Tony Barnes's 33 yard touchdown capped the Hornets' 33 point offensive effort. The Patriots drove over one touchdown in a futile attempt to match the Hornet onslaught.

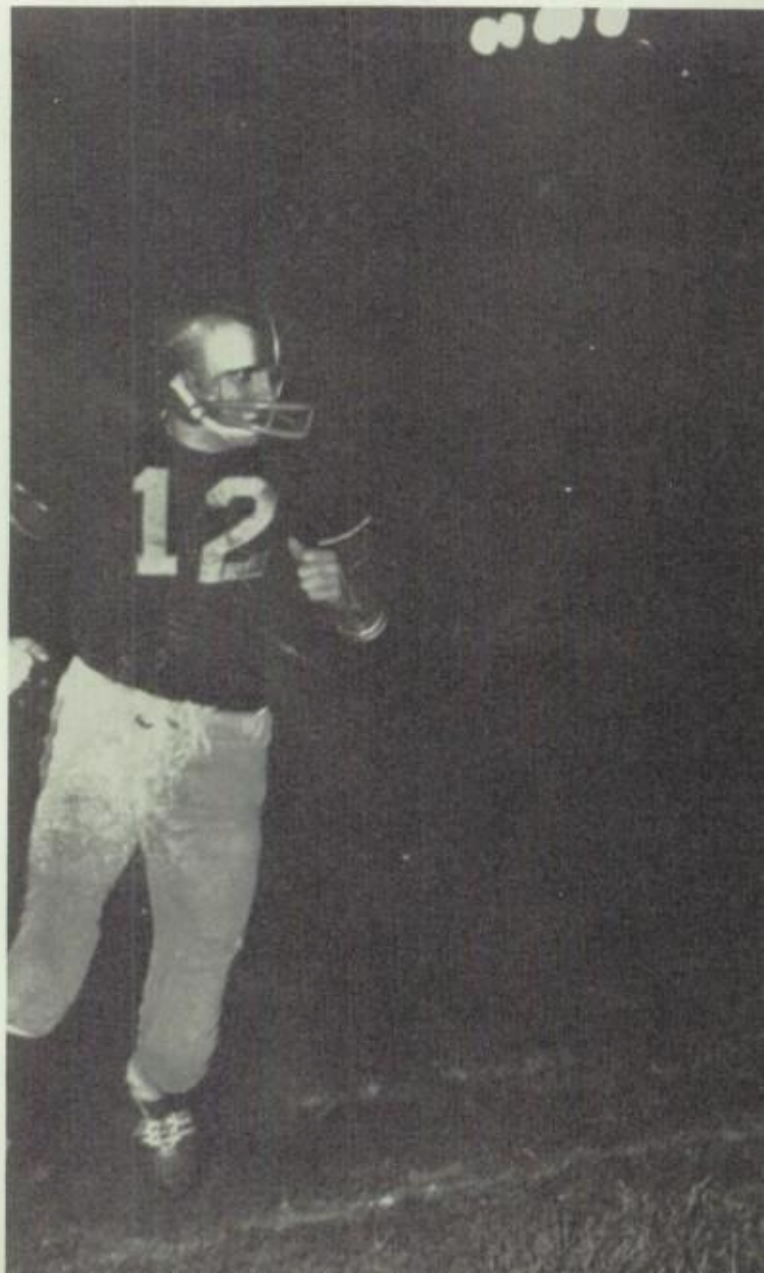
Victory for Varsity

Cardinals Go Into the Red

The highly contested race for Suburban Big Seven leadership among N.K.C., Raytown, and Raytown South, narrowed as the Hornets eliminated the Raytown South Cardinals with a 16-12 victory. Exciting action on the Hornet gridiron was led by Harold Grissom, who ran for both of N.K.C.'s touchdowns. Tony Barnes completed two conversions. Another two points were added as Mike Levine tackled an opponent in the end zone.

Greg Perkins digs into Cardinal territory.

Harold Grissom evades two



Neither a host of opponents, drizzly weather, nor muddy fields could hold the Hornets back.

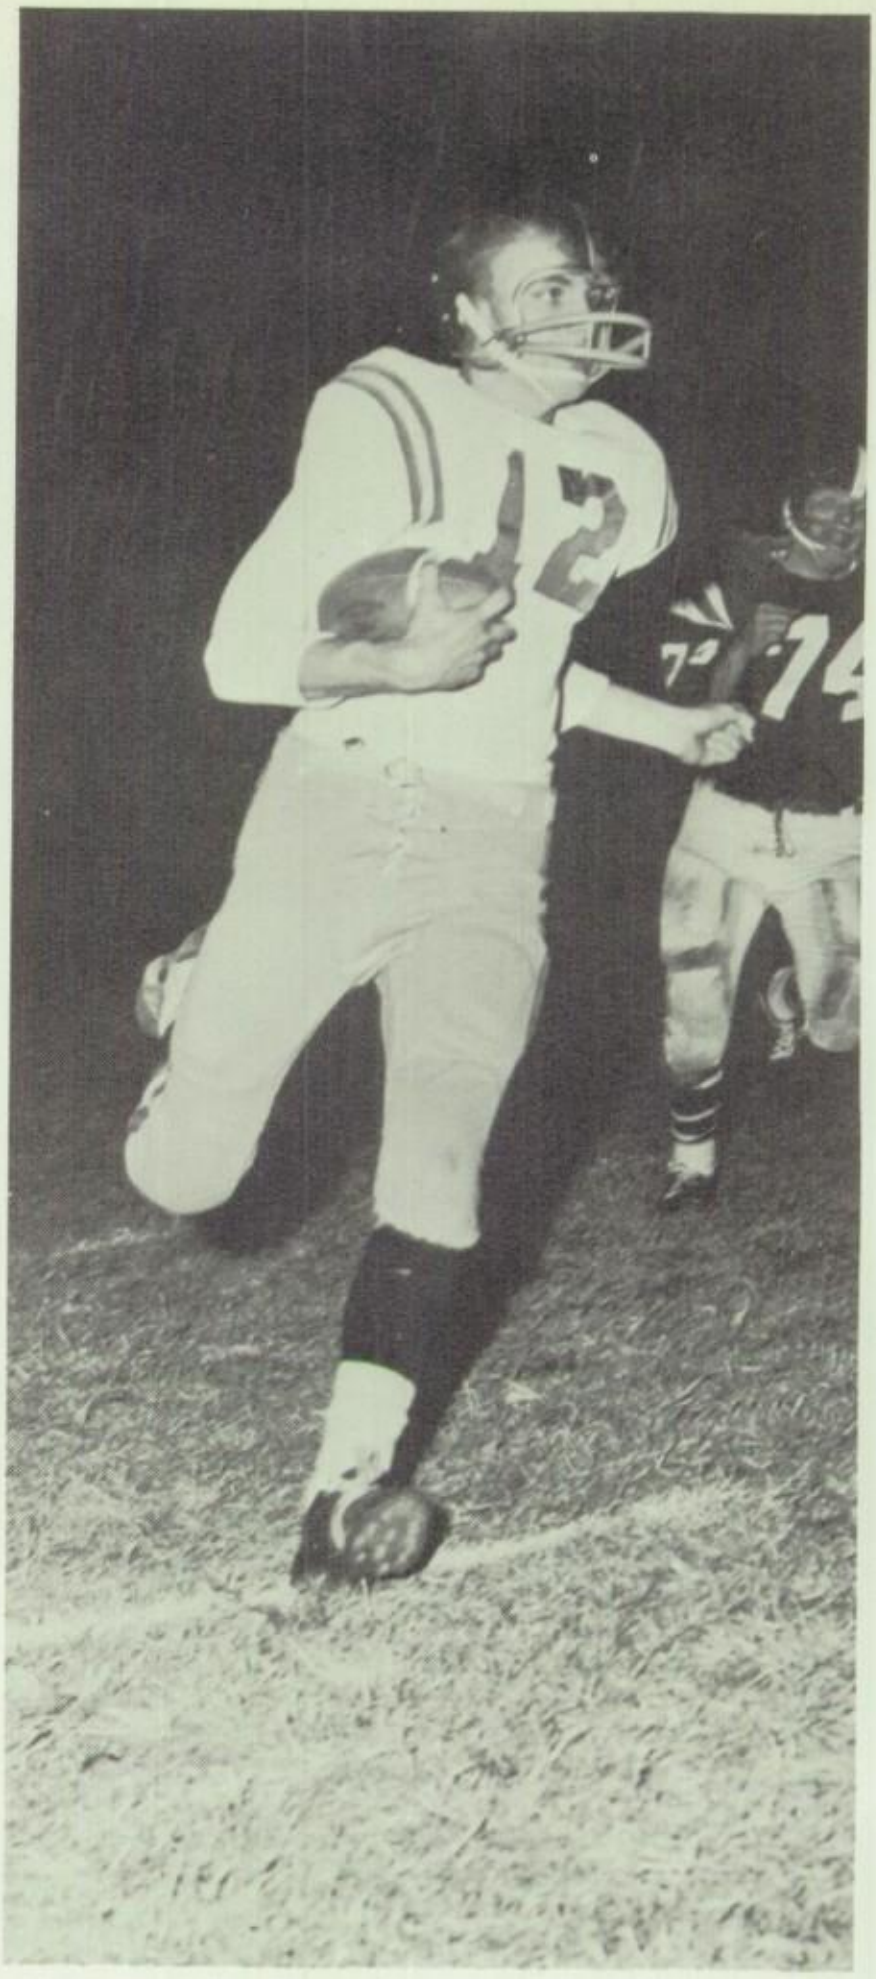
Hornets Drive Indians From Warpath

With a long chain of victories behind them, the Hornets stormed over St. Joe Central in a non-conference win. Unhampered by the drizzly, cold weather, N.K.C. maintained an effective offense and strong defense. Two touchdowns by Gary Ryan and Greg Perkins and two conversions by Tony Barnes and Greg Miller fixed Northtown's score at 14. A forceful defense made this victory complete by holding the Indians scoreless.

Raytown South tacklers only to plow into another wall of opponent defense.

Bluejays Rob Hornets' Nest

The Conference championship for the Northtown Hornets slipped from view as N.K.C. fell before the Raytown Bluejays in a 34-0 shut-out. Although the Purple and Gold were once inside Raytown's 3 yard line, N.K.C. was held scoreless in all four quarters as Raytown pushed over five touchdowns and four conversions.



As Tom Jacobs races down the field the fact stands out that speed is a must in a balanced offense.

Programs bridge the gap between the field and the bleachers.

Unlike other evenings, Friday practice was devoted solely to Junior Varsity.

NORTH KANSAS CITY vs. LEE'S SUMMIT

Jim Stark and Greg Miller kept North Kansas City in the opener for three quarters, but Lee's Summit shooting accuracy and backboard controls forced the Hornets to take the short end of the 57-47 tally.

NORTH KANSAS CITY vs. NORTHEAST

Ten of 12 Hornet players shared honors for N.K.C.'s 49-33 drubbing of Northeast. Tom Jacob capped the team effort with nine points of his own.

NORTH KANSAS CITY vs.
SHAWNEE MISSION WEST

Shawnee Mission West baffled the Hornets with a 59 to 40 victory. The Northtown defense could not thwart the scoring and rebounding which determined the final score in favor of the Lancers.

NORTH KANSAS CITY TOURNAMENT

Losing the first two tournament games, the Hornets failed to place in the 15th annual N.K.C. Invitational Tournament. Northtown lost its bid for the championship title when it yielded a 52-46 victory to Park Hill. The following evening N.K.C. was eliminated from the tournament when Truman escaped with a narrow 54-51 victory. Rockhurst won the tournament title, and Truman captured the consolation final.

NORTH KANSAS CITY vs. RAYTOWN SOUTH

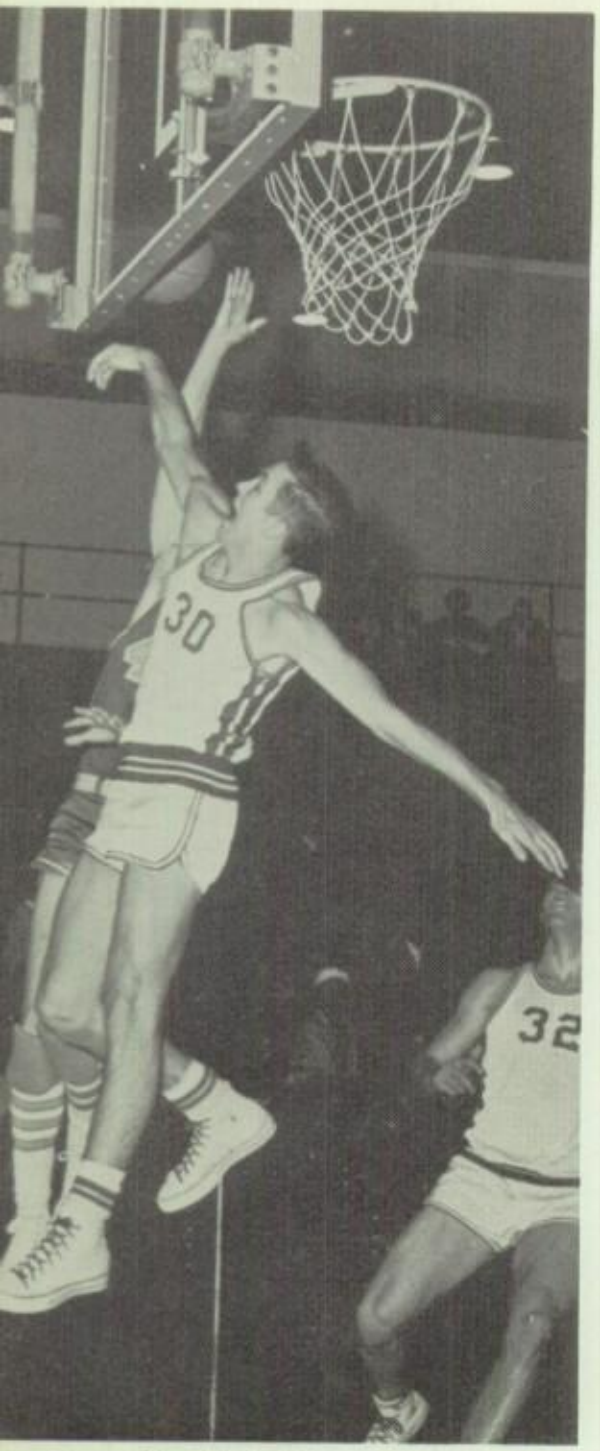
N.K.C. and Raytown South clashed on the Cardinal court to set conference competition going. Although the Hornets were taller on the average, the opponents gained the edge through superior rebounding to hand N.K.C. a 60-48 defeat.

Jeff Hunter succeeds in his fight to clench a rebound off the opponents backboard.

NORTH KANSAS CITY vs. LIBERTY

The one-point edge in the 55-54 Hornet decision over Liberty came as Stan Pippin sank a charity shot. Fouled on the final buzzer, Pippin went to the line to break the tie and add to his high-point honors, having racked up 18 points.

Larry Robertson and an unidentified opponent race to gain possession of a loose ball.



An unidentified Hornet player lays two on the backboard.

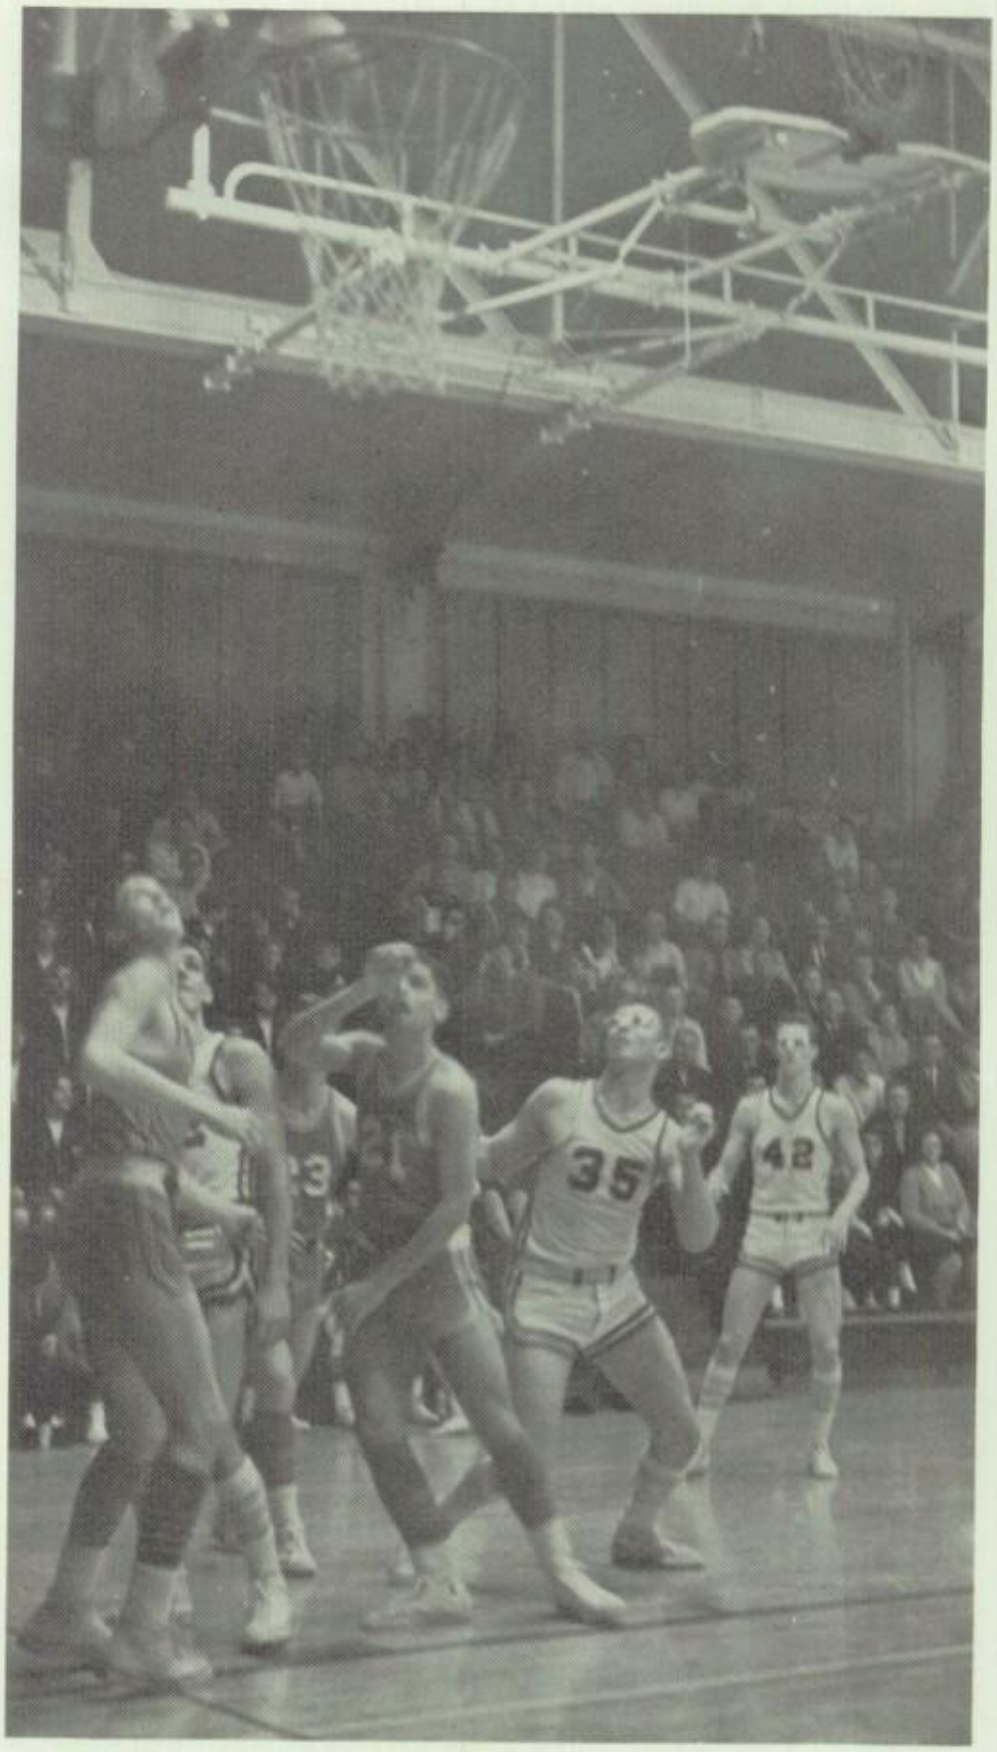
ROCKHURST
INVITATIONAL TOURNAMENT

Losing their first game by a narrow seven point margin, North Kansas City was eliminated from championship competition by the Rockhurst Hawklets. Stan Pippin, Northtown's high scorer with 18 points, kept the Honets always within reach of a potential victory. N.K.C. sank to the bottom as it lost the consolation prize to Raytown in a 69-60 defeat. Rockhurst captured the championship for the third time in four years, and Raytown was the consolation victor.

NORTH KANSAS CITY vs. TRUMAN

The Varsity ushered in '65 with a resounding victory over the Truman Patriots. Going into the fourth quarter with a nine-point disadvantage, N.K.C. rallied to a 60-55 victory. Greg Miller scored 14 points, Stan Pippin 11 points, and Steve Estes 10 points to lead the balanced attack.

Both teams wait in suspense to see which way the ball will bounce.



NORTH KANSAS CITY vs. RUSKIN

The Northtown court was the scene of a 58 to 47 defeat of the Hornets at the hands of the Ruskin Eagles. Though coasting through the first half in the lead, the Hornets were surpassed by a Ruskin surge in the remaining quarter. Wayne Frogge's 12 points was the high total for N.K.C.

N.K.C. vs. CENTER

N.K.C. tumbled beneath the speed and shooting accuracy of the undefeated Center varsity. The Yellowjackets, the Star's second rated basketball team, crushed the Hornets 85-40. Greg Miller stepped into Northtown's scoring spotlight by sinking nearly half of the varsity total.

N.K.C. vs. WILLIAM CHRISMAN

Northtown took command of the Hornet court by dazing William Chrisman 53-46. The Hornet's zone defense served as a buffer in N.K.C.'s triumph. Dee Elliott was first in scoring with 13 points and second was Greg Miller with nine points.

Varsity players shoot freely in a pre-game warm-up.

Strong legs are among the many attributes of basketball.

Coach Ferguson, Jim Sims, and referees discuss a questionable call.

N.K.C. vs. RAYTOWN

Despite zone and man-to-man defensive shifts, the Hornets failed to foil the offensive strength of the rival Bluejays. Though close throughout the game, the score stood 66-60 in Raytown's favor when the final buzzer sounded.

N.K.V. vs. ST. JOE CENTRAL

St. Joe Central rejoiced in a 52-42 homecoming victory over the N.K.C. Hornets in a non-conference win. Failing to gain firm standing in the first half, Northtown never recovered from a deficit that put the Indians 10 points in the lead at the game's end.

N.K.C. vs. RAYTOWN SOUTH

Raytown South pulled out a tight 72-71 victory when they confronted N.K.C. in an exciting overtime period. Northtown countered the Cardinals with 29 points from Stan Pippin. Larry Robertson scored 14 points for a 100% average, and Tom Jacob made decisive shots in the closing minutes of the game.

N.K.C. vs. TRUMAN

Behind Dee Elliott's 20 point attack, N.K.C. stretched their 1-point half time lead into a 59-52 victory over the Truman Patriots.

Hornets and opponents dash downcourt in a blur of action.

Mike Kumpy, Dee Elliott, and Greg Miller await the tip from Jim Stark.

N.K.C. vs. RUSKIN

The Hornets followed their scanty victory over Truman by taking the short end of a 52-47 decision with the Ruskins Eagles. Greg Miller and Dee Elliott spearheaded the N.K.C. effort with 14 and 12 points each.

N.K.C. vs. RAYTOWN

Dee Elliott spear-headed Northtown's drive against Raytown with 22 points and heads-up defense. With the Hornets trailing in the final minute, Elliott sparked Hornet chances as he stole the ball and scored, sending the game into overtime. A field goal by Greg Miller and Tom Jacob's free throw gave N.K.C. a 63-60 judgment.

Stan Pippin jumps, and for a rare occasion, his shot it blocked.

N.K.C. vs. CENTER

The N.K.C.-Center battle was nearly the upset of the season until the Yellowjackets escaped with a 73-72 decision. Northtown held a slim lead thru the first half and again in the fourth quarter, but with 27 seconds remaining, Center edged even. King-pin in the Hornet offense was Stan Pippin who hit 21 point. N.K.C. lost four top players late in the game to the 5-foul limit.

N.K.C. vs. WILLIAM CHRISMAN

William Chrisman dumped the Hornets in the final game of the '65 season with a 68-48 defeat. The Hornets were only 4 points back at the half but Dee Elliott's 11 points and Stan Pippin's 10 point contribution weren't enough to turn the tide.

After a Hornet rebound, Tom Jacob and Wayne Frogge streak down court.
